EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, STATE OF CALIFORNIA, }
SACRAMENTO, February 10, 1899. }

To the Senate of the State of California:

I have the honor to state to your honorable body that claims have been presented to the Board of Examiners by numerous newspapers for various sums of money for the publication of the constitutional amendments submitted to the people of California at the last general election, some of which are as follows:

San Francisco Call, $6,900; Examiner, $7,170 48; Chronicle, $3,450; California Democrat, $2,500; Herald Publishing Company, San José, $1,160; San Diego Vidette Publishing Company, $1,000; L'Italia, $2,100; San Francisco Report, $2,500; Argus Publishing Company, Alameda, $1,000; Mercury Publishing and Printing Company, San José, $1,000; Sacramento Bee, $1,184 63; Tribune Publishing Company, Oakland, $2,160; San Francisco Abend-Post, $1,000; San Francisco Evening Post, $2,500; and other newspaper claims in different sums, in all aggregating upward of $69,000.

These claims have all been disallowed by the Board of Examiners because, among other reasons, in the opinion of the board, they were not authorized by any existing law.

Many of these claims are for publications made without any authorization therefor, these claimants relying upon the generosity of the State to pay for the publications made. The other claimants rely upon the fact that my distinguished predecessor authorized the publications. The authorizations were made apparently under the statute entitled "An Act to provide for the submission of proposed amendments to the Constitution of the State of California to the qualified electors for their approval," approved March 7, 1883 (Statutes of 1883, page 53).

The law at the time of the alleged arrangements between my predecessor and some of the claimants does not seem to warrant the action taken in that behalf.

The Act approved March 7, 1883, declares it shall be the duty of the Governor to advertise such proposed amendments in at least four newspapers of general circulation in this State for three months next preceding the general election, when "no other mode is provided by law."

At the time my predecessor proceeded under the Act of 1883, there was another "mode provided by law," namely, by Sections 1194 and 1195 of the Political Code of California, which are as follows:

"Section 1194. At least fifteen days before an election to fill any public office, the County Clerk of each county shall cause to be sent to the chairman of the county committee of each organized political party of each county the nominations to office certified to him by the Secretary of State, and also all those filed with the County Clerk. In all counties where a new registration shall take place preceding the next ensuing election, the County Clerk shall cause the name of each voter, as enrolled, to be addressed upon an envelope, and also the number of the residence of said voter, or the correct post office address of said voter, as the same is written on said register, and which name and address shall be written on the envelope at the time that each voter is duly registered thereon. All of said envelopes shall be securely kept by the said County Clerk, and, ten days before election to fill any public office, he shall cause to be folded and placed in said envelope, for mailing, sample ballots containing the nominations to office certified to him by the Secretary of State, and also all those filed with the County Clerk, each of which shall be inclosed in said envelope, and cause the same to be mailed in the United States post office as printed matter, for delivery to each of said voters. The mailing of all of said envelopes containing sample ballots, as aforesaid, shall commence at least ten days before the time of election to fill any public office, as aforesaid, and continue so that all of said envelopes containing said sample ballots shall have been mailed at least three whole days before the day of election to fill any public office, as above provided. If a new registration does not take place in any county preceding the next ensuing election, the County Clerk shall cause envelopes to be addressed to each voter, together with the number of the residence of said voter, or correct post office address, as the same appears upon the register corrected at that time, as the law provides, and cause to be inclosed therein the nominations to office certified to him, as aforesaid, and cause the same to be mailed in the manner and within the time as above provided. The clerk or the secretary of the legislative body of any incorporated city or town with whom the names of any candidates have been filed, shall mail, in the United States post office, envelopes addressed to each voter, together with the sample ballots inclosed therein, the list of nominations filed with him, in the same manner as the lists of nominations mailed by the County Clerk, as provided in this section."

"Section 1195. Whenever a proposed constitutional amendment or other question is to be submitted to the people of the State for the popular vote, the Secretary of State shall duly, and not less than twenty-five days before election, certify the same to the Clerk of each county of the State, and the Clerk of each county shall include the same in publication provided for in Section 1194 of this Code."

At the time Section 1195 was amended, the said section then, as well as now, referred to Section 1194 "as though it had been inserted therein in extenso"; and then the language of Section 1194 was as follows:

"Section 1194. At least ten days before an election to fill any public office, the County Clerk of each county shall cause to be published, in at least two newspapers of general circulation within the county, the nominations to office certified to him by the Secretary of State, and also all those filed with the County Clerk. He shall make not less than two such publications in each of such newspapers before election day, one of such publications being made upon the last day upon which such newspaper is issued before the day of election. The list of nominations published by the County Clerks of the respective counties shall be arranged in the order and form in which they will be printed upon the ballot. The clerk or the secretary of the legislative body of any incorporated city or town with whom the names of any candidates have been filed, shall publish in the same manner the lists of nominations filed with him; but where only one newspaper is printed in any county, city, or town, then publication in such newspaper shall be deemed sufficient; and where no newspaper is printed in such county, city, or town, publication shall be made through any newspaper designated by the Board of Supervisors of said county, or the legislative body of such city or town, and by posting copies of the ballot in three of the most public places in such county, city, or town, not less than ten days before the day of election."

In this connection, perhaps, it would not be amiss to bear in mind the rule of statutory construction laid down in People vs. Whipple, 47 Cal. 592, and in many other cases, as well as those principles of law carried into various provisions of our Codes.

The acts of my predecessor authorizing the publications, took place in 1898, when, as now, Sections 1194 and 1195 were in force.

I have examined several of the largest of these claims presented, and find them, with one exception, very excessive.

I know of no provisions of the law by which any of these claimants can be protected in any fair and honest demands which may be presented.

I therefore submit these claims to your honorable body for such fair and equitable adjustment as they may respectfully require.

I respectfully suggest that if appropriations be made, that they should be incorporated in separate bills.

HENRY T. GAGE,
Governor of the State of California.

For the purposes of this Act, the report of the Commissioner of Public Works, dated November sixteen, eighteen hundred and ninety-six, and accompanying reports and plans of engineers, shall be adopted and made the basis of operations, and the plans therein specified for promoting drainage and improving and rectifying river channels, shall, as far as practicable, be carried out and finished as herein provided. In addition to the work outlined and described in said report, the said Board of Auditors are hereby authorized and empowered to perform other, further, and additional work upon the navigable creeks, rivers, and sloughs of the State of California, of a character and nature similar to that outlined and described in said report, for the purpose of promoting drainage, rectifying channels, and improving navigation."

"Section 5. The said Auditing Board shall have power to employ such persons in and about the work herein authorized or provided for, as they may determine to be necessary, at a compensation to be fixed by them. All contracts for the purchase of material and supplies, or for such work as can be done by contract, where the expense thereof shall exceed the sum of five hundred dollars, shall be awarded to the lowest bidder, at a public letting thereof, and after a notice to bidders to be published in one newspaper published in the City of Sacramento, one in Stockton, and one in San Francisco, for at least one week; provided, that at least two weeks shall intervene between the last publication of said notice and the time for opening bids; provided, that said bid is a fair and reasonable one. All bids required by this Act shall be accompanied by such security as the Auditing Board may require, conditioned upon the bidder entering into a contract upon the terms of his bid, on notice of the acceptance thereof, and furnishing a penal bond, with good and sufficient sureties, in such sum as the Auditing Board may require, and to their satisfaction, that he will faithfully perform his contract. If all the bids made at such letting are deemed unreasonably high, the board may, in their discretion, decline to contract, and may again advertise for such time and in such papers as they see proper, for proposals, and may so continue to renew the advertisement until satisfactory contracts are made; and in the meantime the board may contract for articles and supplies for immediate and temporary use, and any one whose offer is regarded as just and equitable, or may purchase in the open market. No bid shall be accepted, nor a contract entered into in pursuance thereof, when such bidder is higher than any other bid at the same letting for the same class or schedule of articles, quality considered, and when a contract can be had at such lower bid. When two or more bids for the same article or articles are equal in amount, the board may select the one which, all things considered, may by them be thought best for the interest of the State, or they may divide the contract between the bidders, as in their judgment may seem proper and right. The board shall have power to let a contract in the aggregate, or they may segregate the items, and enter into a contract with the bidder or bidders who may bid lowest on the several articles. The board shall have the power to reject the bid of any person who had a prior contract and who had not, in the opinion of the board, faithfully complied therewith. If, however, any sudden emergency should arise, rendering it necessary, in the judgment of the Auditing Board, to protect works already completed, or to prevent any work in process of construction being damaged by storms or flood waters, that immediate repair or work should be done, the said Commissioner of Public Works shall have power to perform such work, or make such repairs, in the manner which to him seems most advisable."

Sec. 130. Each member of the board shall visit every school in the city at least twice in each term, and examine carefully into its management, condition, and wants.

Sec. 131. Sec. 136. The Board of Education shall estimate the amount necessary in their judgment to carry on for the next school year those departments of the public schools not now provided for by the general law, and shall report the same to the Board of Supervisors of the County of Santa Barbara in the manner provided by law, in case of levy of special school tax.

Sec. 137. The board shall cause to be prepared in January and July of each year, and filed in the office of the City Clerk, a tabulated statement showing the income and resources of the school department, and the general expenditures for such school purposes, together with such other information as will show the general condition of the schools, and the work accomplished by the department for the previous six months.

Sec. 138. The Public School Fund of said city shall consist of all moneys received from the State and county school fund; of all moneys arising from taxes which shall be levied for school purposes; of all moneys arising from the sale, rent, or exchange of any school property; and of such other moneys as from any source whatever may be paid into the school fund; which fund shall be kept separate and distinct from all other moneys, and shall only be used for school purposes, under the provisions of this charter; and if at the end of the fiscal year any surplus remains in the school fund, such surplus money shall be carried forward to the school fund of the next fiscal year, and no part of the school fund shall be for any purpose, or in any manner whatever, diverted or withdrawn from any such fund, except as in this charter provided.

Sec. 139. SEC. 147. The public library and reading-room created and existing under the provisions of said Act, and known as the "Santa Barbara Free Public Library," is hereby continued in existence, and shall be free of access to all residents of said city and the general public, subject to such rules and regulations for the government and management thereof as may from time to time be adopted by the Board of Trustees thereof.

SEC. 148. The Board of Trustees thereof shall consist of five members, to be elected at the regular municipal election, and shall hold office for two years, or until their successors are elected and qualified.

ARTICLE XIV.

CLAIMS AND DEMANDS.

SEC. 149. All claims and demands whatever against the City of Santa Barbara, except salaries, interest coupons on bonds, and bonds of the funded debt, shall be paid only on demands as herein provided for.

SEC. 150. Said demands, except demands payable out of the library fund, and fire department fund, shall be presented to the Council on forms or blanks to be provided by the City Clerk, and shall be referred to its committee on finance. The said committee shall, by its indorsement thereon, approve or reject the same in whole or in part. The Council shall then consider the said demands and the action of said committee thereon, and shall, if the same be just and legal, approve the same; but may, if it so determine, approve in part or reject the whole. The action of the Council shall be indorsed thereon, with the date of such action, and certified with the signatures of the Mayor and City Clerk.

SEC. 151. All demands approved by the Council shall be delivered to the City Clerk, who shall thereupon draw a warrant therefor upon the City Treasurer, which shall be signed by the Mayor and countersigned by the City Clerk.

SEC. 152. No demand can be approved, audited or paid unless it specify each several item, with the date and amount thereof, nor unless it be subscribed by the claimant or his, her, or its agent, and sworn to before some other authorized to administer oaths.

SEC. 153. No payment can be made from the city treasury or out of the public funds of said city unless the same be specially authorized by law or this charter, nor unless the demand which is paid be duly audited as in this charter provided. The term "audited" as used in this charter with reference to the demands upon the treasury is understood to mean that said demands have been presented to, passed upon and approved as herein provided, and this must appear upon the face of the paper representing the demand or else it is not audited.

SEC. 154. The City Clerk must number and keep a record of all demands on the treasury which have been duly approved, showing the number, date, amount, the name of the original and present holder, on what account allowed and out of what fund payable.

SEC. 155. Every lawful demand upon the treasury, duly audited as in this charter required, shall in all cases be paid on presentation, and canceled, and the proper entry thereof be made, if there be sufficient money in the treasury belonging to the fund out of which it is payable; but if there be not sufficient money belonging to said fund to pay said demand, then it shall be registered in a book kept by the Treasurer for that purpose, showing its number, when presented, date, amount, name of original holder, on what account allowed, and out of what fund payable, and being so registered shall be returned to the party presenting it with an indorsement of the word "registered," dated and signed by the City Treasurer. All registered demands shall be paid in the order of their registration, and shall bear interest at the rate of five per cent per annum from date of such registration.

SEC. 156. All public moneys collected by any officer or employé of the city shall be paid into the said treasury without any deduction on account of any claim for fees, commissions, or any other cause or pretense, and the compensation of any officer, employé, or other person so collecting money shall be paid by demands upon the treasury, duly audited as other demands are audited and paid.

SEC. 157. No suit shall be brought upon any claim for money or damages against the City of Santa Barbara, until the demand for the same has been presented as herein provided, and rejected in whole or in part. If rejected in part, suit may be brought to recover the whole. Nor shall suit be brought against said city upon any such claim or demand if the same shall be in whole approved and audited as provided herein: provided, that nothing herein contained shall be construed so as to deprive the holder of any demand of his right to resort to, or right to maintain any other proceeding against the said Council or any board or officer of said city to compel them or him to act upon said demand or claim, or to pay the same when so audited.

ARTICLE XV.

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS.

SEC. 158. All grants of franchises or privileges by the Council shall be awarded to the highest bidder in pursuance of the general laws of this State, nor shall any such franchise or privilege have any validity unless the person or persons to whom the same is made shall, within six months thereafter, actually and in good faith, commence the exercise or enjoyment of the same; provided, that where condemnation of property is necessary, condemnation proceedings commenced and diligently prosecuted shall be deemed the exercise of the franchise or privilege. Whenever any franchise or privilege shall have been in disuse, in whole or in part, for the period of one year, there being no legal impediment to the use thereof, it shall be deemed abandoned and forfeited to the extent of such disuse, and said franchise or privilege, or the part thereof, so in disuse, shall no longer be used or enjoyed. When, in the exercise of any franchise or privilege, use has been made in any way of any street or alley of the city, such street or alley shall be put in good repair, and the materials or obstructions which have been placed therein in the exercise of such franchise or privilege shall be removed therefrom, at the expense of the person or company who has held such franchise or privilege, whenever the franchise or privilege is abandoned or falls into disuse.

SEC. 159. Any person, except as otherwise in this charter provided, holding a salaried office under this city, whether by election or appointment, who shall during his term of office hold or retain any lucrative office under the Government of the United States or of this State or of the County of Santa Barbara, shall be deemed thereby to have vacated the office held by him under the city government. No person holding any office under the city government shall be eligible to election or appointment to any other office under said city government.

SEC. 160. No member of the Council, or of any board provided for by this charter, and no officer or employé of the city, shall be or become directly or indirectly interested in any contract, work, or business, the consideration, price, or profits of which are payable in whole or in part from the city treasury or school funds and are determined or in any way directly affected by any official act of said Council, board, officer, or employé, or in the sale of any article, the price of which, or the purchase of which by or for the city, or by or for the public schools thereof, depends directly or indirectly upon any official act of such Council, board, officer, or employé. No member of the Council or of any board provided for by this charter and no officer or employé of this city having any authority or power relating to or affecting the granting of any franchise, right, or privilege, shall be or become directly or indirectly interested in any such franchise, right, or privilege. No officer of the city shall be, or become a surety, on any bond given to the city, or to any person for the benefit of the city, nor shall any officer or employé of the city, give or promise to give, any person any portion of his compensation, or any money, or thing of value, or any position, in consideration of having been or being nominated, appointed, voted for, or elected to any office or employment under the city. No officer of the city shall, while in office, accept any donation or gratuity in money or in anything of value, either directly or indirectly, from any subordinate employé, or from any candidate or applicant for any position under him. Any person violating the provisions of this section shall forfeit his office and employment under the city, and be forever disqualified from holding any position in the service of the city.

SEC. 162. All books and records of every officer and department shall be open to the inspection of any citizen at any time during business hours. Copies and extracts from such books and records, duly certified, shall be given by the officer having the same in custody, to any person demanding the same, upon paying or tendering ten cents per folio of one hundred words.

SEC. 163. All streets, lanes, alleys, places and courts in said city now open and dedicated, or which may hereafter be opened and dedicated to public use, shall be kept in repair, so that the same shall be in good passable condition; and it shall be the duty of the Street Superintendent to keep all said streets, lanes, alleys, places and courts within the city limits in good repair, at the expense of the city.

SEC. 164. No office shall be created in addition to those provided for by this charter, unless by ordinance regularly adopted by the Council. Whenever in the judgment of the Council no necessity exists for the continuation of any appointive office created or provided for by this charter, said Council, by an ordinance for that purpose, may discontinue such office; provided, however, the Council shall not have power to abolish or discontinue the office of Chief of Police or the office of City Engineer.

SEC. 165. All officers, deputies, clerks, and assistants of the city, and of the several departments thereof, must be citizens of the United States, and during their respective terms of office or employment must reside in the city, and where not otherwise provided for must, with the exception of the City Superintendent of Schools and teachers of the public schools, have been residents of the city one year next preceding their election or appointment. They, and each of them, shall perform such duties as may be required of them, respectively, by law, ordinance, or this charter, and shall only receive such compensation as may have been previously provided, and such compensation shall not be increased during the term of their respective offices or employment, except as in this charter provided.

SEC. 166. If any officer of the city shall remove from the city, or absent himself therefrom for more than thirty days, consecutively, without the permission of the Council, or shall fail to qualify by taking the oath of office and filing his official bond, whenever such official bond is required, within time required by this charter, or shall resign, or be convicted of felony or of malfeasance in office, or be adjudged insane, his office shall be and become vacant, and such vacancy shall be filled as in this charter provided.

SEC. 167. All books, papers, plats, charts, records, files, and stationery, made or made use of, by any officer or employé of the city, in the performance of his official duties, shall be deemed and considered as belonging to the city, and shall be delivered to his successor in office, who shall give duplicate receipts in writing therefor, one of which receipts shall be filed with the City Clerk.

SEC. 173. No ordinance shall be suspended in its operation with respect to any person or persons, or corporation, nor shall any license or privilege be granted inconsistent with any ordinance; but all ordinances and resolutions purporting to grant such license or privilege, or to suspend the operation of any ordinance with respect to any person, or persons, or corporation, shall be void and shall not be available in defense of any action or proceeding to enforce obedience to such ordinance or punish the violation thereof.

SEC. 174. The word "charter" wherever used herein shall be so construed as to include any amendment to this instrument which may be adopted hereafter.

ARTICLE XVI.

PETITION.

Senator Sims presented the following petition from residents of Healdsburg, which was ordered printed in the Journal:

To the Honorable the State Legislature of California:

The attention of your honorable body is respectfully called to the fact that nowhere on the soil of the Pacific Coast is there a monument to the memory of Abraham Lincoln.

While this omission does not arise from any lack of admiration or appreciation on the part of the patriotic people of this coast, yet it is a reflection upon the spirit of open-handed generosity, that is one of the leading characteristics of our people.

The Lincoln Monument League seeks to supply this: That organization has procured the dedication of a day in the public schools of this State to a study of the life and services of the Great Emancipator. As a lasting testimonial, it is desired that a suitable shaft may be erected that shall stand in the hereafter as the crystallization of the sentiment universal among the people, whom Lincoln loved. To make this possible, we respectfully ask your honorable body to consider favorably the bill appropriating $50,000 for this purpose.

WHEREAS, The present method of electing Senators of the United States has been and is productive of results inimical to the general welfare, and threatening the usefulness of a body representing the sovereignty of the several States of the Union; and

WHEREAS, The various States have repeatedly applied to Congress for the submission to the people thereof, in the manner prescribed by the Constitution of the United States, of an amendment to such Constitution, providing that Senators of the United States shall be elected by popular vote; and

WHEREAS, The House of Representatives of the United States has at different times answered the popular demand for the passage of the necessary legislation; and

Resolved by this Joint Assembly, That a committee of three members of the Senate and three members of the Assembly be and is hereby appointed to prepare a memorial addressed to the Legislatures of the several States, requesting application by each thereof, in the manner prescribed by Article V of the Constitution of the United States, petitioning Congress to call a convention for proposing amendments to the National Constitution on this and such other subjects as the public welfare may demand; and be it further

Resolved, That such committee be instructed to provide in its report a method for the transmission of such memorial to the Legislatures of the several States: and be it further

PETITION.

Senator Flint presented the following petition, which was read, ordered printed in the Journal, and referred to Committee on Finance and Claims:

To the Senate and Assembly of the Legislature of California:

GENTLEMEN: We, your undersigned petitioners, would respectfully present your honorable body that in the southern portion of Monterey County, for several years past, all crops have been below the average. Five years ago on small farms there was a partial or absolute failure. These small farmers are those whom an influx of immigration has forced upon small or broken quarter sections. They raise chickens, turkeys, geese, hogs, sheep, goats, etc., some grain, hay, and garden produce. The protracted drought of last year caused an entire failure of all products of the soil. These poor men have sold poultry, hogs, sheep, goats, and, in many cases, their last cow, while hundreds more of cows and horses have starved to death. Thus, their resources are exhausted, family supplies are at an end, their little homes are mortgaged, their credit gone, while destitution and death stare them in the face unless relief is promptly afforded them. We find in this part of our county over 2,000 families, one half of whom will need aid. If, then, we allow four persons to a family, this makes 4,000 persons to be provided for until returns can be obtained from the soil. If the small sum of $20 is allowed for each one, it makes the sum of $80,000 needed to keep these people alive; while, if seed and feed are not furnished them, they will be no better off next year than this. Should it be possible, from any available funds, to make such an appropriation, these people will in a few years return the same to the State many fold. And your petitioners, as in duty bound, will ever pray.

J. F. BETTS, Sr.
ANDREW REID.
G. A. STANLEY.
SARAH GESSUP.
GEORGE W. PAUL.
And seventy-one others.

NOTICE.

Senator Stratton gave notice that he desired the return of Senate Bill No. 358 from the Committee on Finance and Claims, with or without any recommendation.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Senator Simpson arose to a question of privilege, and spoke as follows:

In the San Francisco Call of Tuesday, February 21, appeared the following item:

"Senator Simpson passed two hours to-day in writing explanatory letters to his constituents. According to all accounts, the men in Southern California who are bracing up Simpson are a queer crowd. One of the letters in the Record-Union purports to be from John S. Cox, of Pasadena. Cox is not a resident of Pasadena, but lives in Los Angeles. Moreover, he is a 'bloomin' Britisher,' who cannot vote, because he is not naturalized. Another letter is from Frank Dominguez, a half Mexican. Within the last ten days Senator Bulla received a letter from Dominguez, in which the latter pledged his fidelity to the Senator."

What I desire to say, Mr. President, is this: That the Hon. John S. Cox, whose letter I have seen fit to give to the Record-Union, of Sacramento, and other reputable papers, which I knew would not garble and distort the statements made therein, was born in the State of Ohio, in these United States, under the American flag, and no man has ever stood more firmly by the Republican party than John S. Cox, an ex-Mayor of the City of Pasadena. No person has had more inherent right to vote in the general elections of the County of Los Angeles and the State of California, and no person's voice has had more weight than that of John S. Cox.

Now, in reference to Frank Dominguez. He is a man, who, while having been the friend of Senator Bulla all through the last campaign, has seen fit to make a statement to me that his belief was that Daniel M. Burns was the logical candidate for United States Senator, and ought to be elected, and has written to me, which letter I can produce, to show that I have carried out the instructions and the real intentions of those to whom I refer in my remarks upon the question of privilege. I cannot help but feel that I have been misquoted, and, in the heat of the moment, I pronounce the person that wrote the article in the Call—a miserable, low-down, dirty, calumniating sheet—as an infernal damn liar.

I have served the people of the State of California for eight years. I never in my life took a dishonest dollar; I have never in my life done a thing that I believed was dishonest; I have come here at the sacrifice of my business, and it does seem strange to me that a person who has done as much for as little remuneration should not at least have accredited to him honest motives. While I am aware that I am under bans to-day from those who believe that a man has no rights except those that are instructed to him, I cannot but help feel that a man who is entrusted with discretion should be once in awhile allowed to use that discretion which the people have entrusted to him. I have read many newspaper accounts upon my course in this Senatorial election, and, while it grieves me to think that some of my people attribute dishonest motives to me, I cannot help but stand up and say that I have done that which I believe to be not only for the best interests of the Republican party of the State of California, but of the people of the whole State.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, STATE OF CALIFORNIA, {
SACRAMENTO, February 17, 1899. }

To the Senate of the State of California:

Pursuant to the requirement of Section 6 of an Act entitled "An Act to authorize suits against the State, and regulating the procedure therein," approved February 28, 1893, I have the honor to report to your honorable body that on the 8th day of August, 1895, in the Superior Court of San Francisco, State of California, in case No. 43553, wherein J. F. Chapman was plaintiff and the People of the State of California was defendant, a judgment for plaintiff in the sum of $1,265, with interest, was rendered against the people.

The said action will be found referred to on pages 6 and 86 of the report of the Attorney-General of the State for the years 1895 and 1896.

I find that this judgment has not heretofore been reported to the Legislature. I suggest that Section 6 be amended so that the Attorney-General, and not the Executive, make such reports in future.

HENRY T. GAGE,
Governor of the State of California.

Also:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, STATE OF CALIFORNIA, {
SACRAMENTO, February 18, 1899. }

To the Senate of the State of California:

I have the honor to call the attention of your honorable body to the State's finances.

The condition of the treasury is such that, if everything be paid which the General Fund is chargeable with (even if not a single dollar be appropriated by your honorable body at this session of the Legislature), still, at the end of this year, there will be the enormous deficiency in the General Fund of about $900,000.

I most respectfully direct your attention to this condition of the finances, in order to correct the delusive statements which have been put abroad in reference to the plethoric condition of our treasury; and most respectfully urge upon you the great necessity for economy, and that you make only such appropriations as are of the most urgent character; and such appropriations should be made payable only, so far as possible, on and after the first day of January, 1900—at which time there will be an additional installment of State taxes.

If there be transferred, at the proper time, to the General Fund from other funds, $400,000, then, in view of the fact that some of the existing demands may not be presented, I think it safe to proceed on the basis that, with this transfer of $400,000, we will have sufficient money with which to meet and manage our financial liabilities until the incoming taxes of January next.

I therefore respectfully request your honorable body to pass an Act directly authorizing the Governor for and during this year, when in his opinion the necessity arises, to order the Controller to direct the transfer of $400,000 from other funds to the General Fund; and that this amount so transferred shall be returned to the fund or funds from which it be transferred as soon as there is sufficient money in the General Fund.

While I am decidedly opposed, as a general proposition, to this transfer of funds, I am confronted by a condition for which this administration is in no way responsible; and I trust that our finances may be so managed under this administration as to avoid a repetition of such a necessity.

HENRY T. GAGE,
Governor of the State of California.

Also:

Sec. 3084. Where the day, or the last day, for doing any act in this title required or permitted to be done falls on Sunday or on a holiday, the act may be done on the next succeeding secular or business day.

Sec. 3085. The provisions of this title as amended do not apply to negotiable instruments made and delivered prior to the passage hereof.

Sec. 3086. In any case not provided for in this title the rules of the law merchant shall govern.

ARTICLE II.

FORM AND INTERPRETATION.

Section 3087. Form of negotiable instrument.

3088. Certainty as to sum; what constitutes.

3089. When promise is unconditional.

3090. Determinable future time; what constitutes.

3091. Provisions not affecting negotiability.

3092. Omissions; seal; particular money.

3093. When payable on demand.

3094. When payable to order.

3095. When payable to bearer.

3096. Terms, when sufficient.

3097. Date of instrument.

3098. Date, when may be inserted.

3099. Blanks, when may be filled.

3100. Incomplete instrument not delivered.

3101. Delivery; when effectual; when presumed.

3102. Construction where instrument is ambiguous.

3103. Liability of persons signing in trade or assumed names.

3104. Signature by agent; authority; how shown.

3105. Liability of person signing as agent.

3106. Signature by procuration; effect of.

3107. Indorsement by infant or corporation; effect of.

3108. Forged signature; effect of.

Sec. 3087. An instrument to be negotiable must conform to the following requirements:

1. It must be in writing, and signed by the maker or drawer;

2. Must contain an unconditional promise or order to pay a sum certain in money;

3. Must be payable on demand, or at a fixed or determinable future time;

4. Must be payable to order or to bearer; and,

5. Where the instrument is addressed to a drawee, he must be named or otherwise indicated therein with reasonable certainty.

Sec. 3088. The sum payable is a sum certain within the meaning of this Act, although it is to be paid:

1. With interest; or

2. By stated installments; or

3. By stated installments, with a provision that upon default in payment of any installment or of interest, the whole shall become due; or

4. With exchange, whether at a fixed rate or at the current rate; or

5. With costs of collection or an attorney's fee, in case payment shall not be made at maturity.

Sec. 3089. An unqualified order or promise to pay is unconditional within the meaning of this Act, though coupled with:

1. An indication of a particular fund out of which reimbursement is to be made, or a particular account to be debited with the amount; or

2. A statement of the transaction which gives rise to the instrument.

But an order or promise to pay out of a particular fund is not unconditional.

Sec. 3090. An instrument is payable at a determinable future time, within the meaning of this title, which is expressed to be payable:

1. At a fixed period after date or sight; or

2. On or before a fixed or determinable future time specified therein; or

3. On or at a fixed period after the occurrence of a specified event, which is certain to happen, though the time of happening be uncertain.

An instrument payable upon a contingency is not negotiable, and the happening of the event does not cure the defect.

SEC. 3091. An instrument which contains an order or promise to do any act in addition to the payment of money is not negotiable. But the negotiable character of an instrument otherwise negotiable is not affected by a provision which:

1. Authorizes the sale of collateral securities in case the instrument be not paid at maturity; or
2. Authorizes a confession of judgment if the instrument be not paid at maturity; or
3. Waives the benefit of any law intended for the advantage or protection of the obligor; or
4. Gives the holder an election to require something to be done in lieu of payment of money.

But nothing in this section shall validate any provision or stipulation otherwise illegal.

SEC. 3092. The validity and negotiable character of an instrument are not affected by the fact that:

1. It is not dated; or
 2. Does not specify the value given, or that any value has been given therefor; or
 3. Does not specify the place where it is drawn, or the place where it is payable; or
 4. Bears a seal; or
 5. Designates a particular kind of current money in which payment is to be made.
- But nothing in this section shall alter or repeal any statute requiring in certain cases the nature of the consideration to be stated in the instrument.

SEC. 3093. An instrument is payable on demand:

1. Where it is expressed to be payable on demand, or at sight, or on presentation; or
 2. In which no time for payment is expressed.
- Where an instrument is issued, accepted, or indorsed when overdue, it is, as regards the person so issuing, accepting, or indorsing it, payable on demand.

SEC. 3094. The instrument is payable to order where it is drawn payable to the order of a specified person, or to him, or his order. It may be drawn payable to the order of:

1. A payee who is not maker, drawer, or drawee; or
2. The drawer or maker; or
3. The drawee; or
4. Two or more payees jointly; or
5. One or some of several payees; or
6. The holder of an office for the time being.

Where the instrument is payable to order the payee must be named or otherwise indicated therein with reasonable certainty.

SEC. 3095. The instrument is payable to bearer:

1. When it is expressed to be so payable; or
2. When it is payable to a person named therein or bearer; or
3. When it is payable to the order of a fictitious or non-existing person, and such fact was known to the person making it so payable; or
4. When the name of the payee does not purport to be the name of any person; or
5. When the only or last indorsement is an indorsement in blank.

SEC. 3096. The instrument need not follow the language of this title, but any terms are sufficient which clearly indicate an intention to conform to the requirements hereof.

SEC. 3097. Where the instrument or an acceptance or any indorsement thereon is dated, such date is deemed prima facie to be the true date of the making, drawing, acceptance, or indorsement, as the case may be. The instrument is not invalid for the reason only that it is ante-dated or post-dated, provided this is not done for an illegal or fraudulent purpose. The person to whom an instrument so dated is delivered acquires the title thereto as of the date of delivery.

SEC. 3098. Where an instrument expressed to be payable at a fixed period after date is issued undated, or where the acceptance of an instrument payable at a fixed period after sight is undated, any holder may insert therein the true date of issue or acceptance, and the instrument shall be payable accordingly. The insertion of a wrong date does not avoid the instrument in the hands of a subsequent holder in due course; but as to him, the date so inserted is to be regarded as the true date.

SEC. 3099. Where the instrument is wanting in any material particular, the person in possession thereof has a prima facie authority to complete it by filling up the blanks therein. And a signature on a blank paper delivered by the person making the signature in order that the paper may be converted into a negotiable instrument operates as a prima facie authority to fill it up as such for any amount. In order, however, that any such instrument when completed may be enforced against any person who became a party thereto prior to its completion, it must be filled up strictly in accordance with the authority given and within a reasonable time. But if any such instrument, after completion, is negotiable to a holder in due course it is valid and effectual for all purposes in his hands and he may enforce it as if it had been filled up strictly in accordance with the authority given and within a reasonable time.

SEC. 3100. Where an incomplete instrument has not been delivered it will not, if completed and negotiated, without authority, be a valid contract in the hands of any holder, as against any person whose signature was placed thereon before delivery.

SEC. 3101. Every contract on a negotiable instrument is incomplete and revocable until delivery of the instrument for the purpose of giving effect thereto. As between immediate parties, and as regards a remote party other than a holder in due course, the delivery, in order to be effectual, must be made either by or under the authority of the party making, drawing, accepting, or indorsing, as the case may be; and in such case the delivery may be shown to have been conditional, or for a special purpose only, and not for the purpose of transferring the property in the instrument. But where the instrument is in the hands of a holder in due course, a valid delivery thereof by all parties prior to him so as to make them liable to him is conclusively presumed. And where the instrument is no longer in possession of a party whose signature appears thereon, a valid and intentional delivery by him is presumed until the contrary is proved.

Sec. 3102. Where the language of the instrument is ambiguous, or there are omissions therein, the following rules of construction apply:

1. Where the sum payable is expressed in words and also in figures and there is a discrepancy between the two, the sum denoted by the words is the sum payable; but if the words are ambiguous or uncertain, references may be had to the figures to fix the amount.

2. Where the instrument provides for the payment of interest, without specifying the date from which interest is to run, the interest runs from the date of the instrument, and if the instrument is undated, from the issue thereof.

3. Where the instrument is not dated, it will be considered to be dated as of the time it was issued.

4. Where there is conflict between the written and printed provisions of the instrument, the written provisions prevail.

5. Where the instrument is so ambiguous that there is doubt whether it is a bill or a note, the holder may treat it as either, at his election.

6. Where a signature is so placed upon the instrument that it is not clear in what capacity the person making the same intended to sign, he is to be deemed an indorser.

7. Where an instrument containing the words "I promise to pay" is signed by two or more persons, they are deemed to be jointly and severally liable thereon.

Sec. 3103. No person is liable on the instrument whose signature does not appear thereon, except as in this title otherwise expressly provided. But one who signs in a trade or assumed name will be liable to the same extent as if he had signed in his own name.

Sec. 3104. The signature of any party may be made by a duly authorized agent. No particular form of appointment is necessary for this purpose; and the authority of the agent may be established as in other cases of agency.

Sec. 3105. Where the instrument contains or a person adds to his signature words indicating that he signs for or on behalf of a principal, or in a representative capacity, he is not liable on the instrument if he was duly authorized; but the mere addition of words describing him as an agent, or as filling a representative character, without disclosing his principal, does not exempt him from personal liability.

Sec. 3106. A signature by "procuration" operates as notice that the agent has but a limited authority to sign, and the principal is bound only in case the agent in so signing acted within the actual limits of his authority.

Sec. 3107. The indorsement or assignment of the instrument by a corporation or by an infant passes the property therein, notwithstanding that from want of capacity the corporation or infant may incur no liability thereon.

Sec. 3108. Where a signature is forged or made without the authority of the person whose signature it purports to be, it is wholly inoperative, and no right to retain the instrument, or to give a discharge therefor, or to enforce payment thereof against any party thereto, can be acquired through or under such signature, unless the party against whom it is sought to enforce such right is precluded from setting up the forgery or want of authority.

ARTICLE III.

CONSIDERATION.

Section 3109. Presumption of consideration.

3110. What constitutes consideration.

3111. What constitutes holder for value.

3112. Effect of want of consideration.

3113. Liability of accommodation party.

Sec. 3109. Every negotiable instrument is deemed prima facie to have been issued for a valuable consideration, and every person whose signature appears thereon to have become a party thereto for value.

Sec. 3110. Value is any consideration sufficient to support a simple contract. An antecedent or pre-existing debt constitutes value; and is deemed such whether the instrument is payable on demand or at a future time.

Sec. 3111. Where value has at any time been given for the instrument, the holder is deemed a holder for value in respect to all parties who became such prior to that time. Where the holder has a lien on the instrument, arising either from contract or by implication of law, he is deemed a holder for value to the extent of his lien.

Sec. 3112. Absence or failure of consideration is matter of defense as against any person not a holder in due course, and partial failure of consideration is a defense pro tanto whether the failure is an ascertained and liquidated amount or otherwise.

Sec. 3113. An accommodation party is one who has signed the instrument as maker, drawer, acceptor, or indorser, without receiving value therefor, and for the purpose of lending his name to some other person. Such a person is liable on the instrument to a holder for value, notwithstanding such holder at the time of taking the instrument knew him to be only an accommodation party.

ARTICLE IV.

NEGOTIATION.

Section 3111. What constitutes negotiation.

- 3115. Indorsement; how made.
- 3116. Must be of entire instrument.
- 3117. Kinds of indorsement.
- 3118. Special indorsement; indorsement in blank; how changed.
- 3119. When indorsement restrictive.
- 3120. Effect of restrictive indorsement; rights of indorsee.
- 3121. Qualified indorsement.
- 3122. Conditional indorsement.
- 3123. Indorsement of instrument payable to bearer.
- 3124. Indorsement where payable to two or more persons.
- 3125. Effect of instrument drawn or indorsed to a person as cashier.
- 3126. Indorsement where error in name of payee or indorsee.
- 3127. Indorsement in representative capacity.
- 3128. Time of indorsement; presumption.
- 3129. Place of indorsement; presumption.
- 3130. When negotiable character ceases.
- 3131. Striking out indorsement; effect.
- 3132. Transfer without indorsement; effect of.
- 3133. Prior party negotiating instrument; effect of.

SEC. 3114. An instrument is negotiated when it is transferred from one person to another in such manner as to constitute the transferee the holder thereof; if payable to bearer it is negotiated by delivery; if payable to order it is negotiated by the indorsement of the holder, completed by delivery.

SEC. 3115. The indorsement must be written on the instrument itself or upon a paper attached thereto. The signature of the indorser, without additional words, is a sufficient indorsement.

SEC. 3116. The indorsement must be an indorsement of the entire instrument. An indorsement which purports to transfer to the indorsee a part only of the amount payable, or which purports to transfer the instrument to two or more indorsee severally, does not operate as a negotiation of the instrument. But where the instrument has been paid in part, it may be indorsed as to the residue.

SEC. 3117. An indorsement may be either in blank or special; and it may also be either restrictive or qualified, or conditional.

SEC. 3118. A special indorsement specifies the person to whom, or to whose order, the instrument is to be payable; and the indorsement of such indorsee is necessary to the further negotiation of the instrument. An indorsement in blank specifies no indorsee, and an instrument so indorsed is payable to bearer, and may be negotiated by delivery. The holder may convert a blank indorsement into a special indorsement by writing over the signature of the indorser in blank any contract consistent with the character of the indorsement.

SEC. 3119. An indorsement is restrictive which either:

1. Prohibits the further negotiation of the instrument; or
2. Constitutes the indorsee the agent of the indorser; or
3. Vests the title in the indorsee in trust for or to the use of some other person.

But the mere absence of words implying power to negotiate does not make an indorsement restrictive.

SEC. 3120. A restrictive indorsement confers upon the indorsee the right:

1. To receive payment of the instrument.
2. To bring any action thereon that the indorser could bring.
3. To transfer his rights as such indorsee, where the form of the indorsement authorizes him to do so.

But all subsequent indorsee acquire only the title of the first indorsee under the restrictive indorsement.

SEC. 3121. A qualified indorsement constitutes the indorser a mere assignor of the title to the instrument. It may be made by adding to the indorser's signature the words "without recourse" or any words of similar import. Such an indorsement does not impair the negotiable character of the instrument.

SEC. 3122. Where an indorsement is conditional, a party required to pay the instrument may disregard the condition, and make payment to the indorsee or his transferee, whether the condition has been fulfilled or not. But any person to whom an instrument so indorsed is negotiated, will hold the same or the proceeds thereof, subject to the rights of the person indorsing conditionally.

SEC. 3123. Where an instrument, payable to bearer, is indorsed specially, it may nevertheless be further negotiated by delivery; but the person indorsing specially is liable as indorser to only such holders as make title through his indorsement.

SEC. 3124. Where an instrument is payable to the order of two or more payees or indorsee who are not partners, all must indorse, unless the one indorsing has authority to indorse for the others.

SEC. 3125. Where an instrument is drawn or indorsed to a person as "cashier" or other fiscal officer of a bank or corporation, it is deemed prima facie to be payable to the bank or corporation of which he is such officer; and may be negotiated by either the indorsement of the bank or corporation, or the indorsement of the officer.

SEC. 3126. Where the name of a payee or indorsee is wrongly designated or misspelled, he may indorse the instrument as therein described, adding, if he think fit, his proper signature.

SEC. 3127. Where any person is under obligation to indorse in a representative capacity, he may indorse in such terms as to negative personal liability.

SEC. 3128. Except where an indorsement bears date after the maturity of the instrument, every negotiation is deemed prima facie to have been effected before the instrument was overdue.

SEC. 3129. Except where the contrary appears, every indorsement is presumed prima facie to have been made at the place where the instrument is dated.

SEC. 3130. An instrument negotiable in its origin continues to be negotiable until it has been restrictively indorsed or discharged by payment or otherwise.

SEC. 3131. The holder may at any time strike out any indorsement which is not necessary to his title. The indorser whose indorsement is struck out, and all indorsers subsequent to him, are thereby relieved from liability on the instrument.

SEC. 3132. Where the holder of an instrument payable to his order transfers it for value without indorsing it, the transfer vests in the transferee such title as the transferor had therein, and the transferee acquires, in addition, the right to have the indorsement of the transferor. But for the purpose of determining whether the transferee is a holder in due course, the negotiation takes effect as of the time when the indorsement is actually made.

SEC. 3133. Where an instrument is negotiated back to a prior party, such party may, subject to the provisions of this title, reissue and further negotiate the same. But he is not entitled to enforce payment thereof against any intervening party to whom he was personally liable.

ARTICLE V.

RIGHTS OF THE HOLDER.

Section 3134. Right of holder to sue; payment to him.

3135. What constitutes a holder in due course.

3136. When not deemed holder in due course.

3137. Notice before full payment.

3138. When title defective.

3139. What constitutes notice of defect.

3140. Rights of holder in due course.

3141. When subject to original defenses.

3142. Who is prima facie holder in due course.

SEC. 3134. The holder of a negotiable instrument may sue thereon in his own name, and payment to him in due course discharges the instrument.

SEC. 3135. A holder in due course is a holder who has taken the instrument under the following conditions:

1. That it is complete and regular upon its face.

2. That he became the holder of it before it was overdue, and without notice that it had been previously dishonored, if such was the fact.

3. That he took it for good faith and value.

4. That at the time it was negotiated to him he had no notice of any infirmity in the instrument or defect in the title of the person negotiating it.

SEC. 3136. Where an instrument payable on demand is negotiated an unreasonable length of time after its issue, the holder is not deemed a holder in due course.

SEC. 3137. Where the transferee receives notice of any infirmity in the instrument or defect in the title of the person negotiating the same before he has paid the full amount agreed to be paid therefor, he will be deemed a holder in due course only to the extent of the amount theretofore paid by him.

SEC. 3138. The title of a person who negotiates an instrument is defective within the meaning of this title when he obtained the instrument, or any signature thereto, by fraud, duress, or force and fear, or other unlawful means, or for an illegal consideration, or when he negotiates it in breach of faith, or under such circumstances as amount to a fraud.

SEC. 3139. To constitute notice of an infirmity in the instrument or defect in the title of the person negotiating the same, the person to whom it is negotiated must have had actual knowledge of the infirmity or defect, or knowledge of such facts that his action in taking the instrument amounted to bad faith.

SEC. 3140. A holder in due course holds the instrument free from any defect of title of prior parties, and free from defenses available to prior parties among themselves, and may enforce payment of the instrument for the full amount thereof against all parties liable thereon.

SEC. 3141. In the hands of any holder, other than a holder in due course, a negotiable instrument is subject to the same defenses as if it were non-negotiable. But a holder who derives his title through a holder in due course, and who is not himself a party to any fraud or illegality affecting the instrument, has all the rights of such former holder in respect of all parties prior to the latter.

SEC. 3142. Every holder is deemed prima facie to be a holder in due course; but when it is shown that the title of any person who has negotiated the instrument was defective, the burden is on the holder to prove that he or some person under whom he claims acquired the title as holder in due course. But the last-mentioned rule does not apply in favor of a party who became bound on the instrument prior to the acquisition of such defective title.

ARTICLE VI.

LIABILITIES OF PARTIES.

- Section 3143. Liability of maker.
 3144. Liability of drawer.
 3145. Liability of acceptor.
 3146. When person deemed indorser.
 3147. Liability of irregular indorser.
 3148. Warranty; where negotiation by delivery.
 3149. Liability of general indorser.
 3150. Liability of indorser where paper negotiable by delivery.
 3151. Order in which indorsers are liable.
 3152. Liability of agent or broker.

SEC. 3143. The maker of a negotiable instrument by making it engages that he will pay it according to its tenor, and admits the existence of the payee and his then capacity to indorse.

SEC. 3144. The drawer, by drawing the instrument, admits the existence of the payee and his then capacity to indorse; and engages that on due presentment the instrument will be accepted or paid, or both, according to its tenor, and that if it be dishonored, and the necessary proceedings on dishonor be duly taken, he will pay the amount thereof to the holder, or to any subsequent indorser who may be compelled to pay it. But the drawer may insert in the instrument an express stipulation negating or limiting his own liability to the holder.

SEC. 3145. The acceptor, by accepting the instrument, engages that he will pay it according to the tenor of his acceptance; and admits:

1. The existence of the drawer, the genuineness of his signature, and his capacity and authority to draw the instrument; and
2. The existence of the payee and his then capacity to indorse.

SEC. 3146. A person placing his signature upon an instrument, otherwise than as maker, drawer, or acceptor, is deemed to be an indorser, unless he clearly indicates by appropriate words his intention to be bound in some other capacity.

SEC. 3147. Where a person, not otherwise a party to an instrument, places thereon his signature in blank before delivery, he is liable as indorser in accordance with the following rules:

1. If the instrument is payable to the order of a third person, he is liable to the payee and to all subsequent parties.
2. If the instrument is payable to the order of the maker or drawer, or is payable to bearer, he is liable to all parties subsequent to the maker or drawer.
3. If he signs for the accommodation of the payee, he is liable to all parties subsequent to the payee.

SEC. 3148. Every person negotiating an instrument by delivery or by a qualified indorsement warrants:

1. That the instrument is genuine and in all respects what it purports to be.
2. That he has a good title to it.
3. That all prior parties had capacity to contract.
4. That he has no knowledge of any fact which would impair the validity of the instrument or render it valueless.

But when the negotiation is by delivery only, the warranty extends in favor of no holder other than the immediate transferee.

The provisions of subdivision three of this section do not apply to persons negotiating public or corporate securities, other than bills and notes.

SEC. 3149. Every indorser who indorses without qualification warrants to all subsequent holders in due course:

1. The matters and things mentioned in subdivisions one, two, and three of the next preceding section; and
2. That the instrument is at the time of his indorsement valid and subsisting.

And in addition, he engages that on due presentment it shall be accepted or paid, or both, as the case may be, according to its tenor, and that if it be dishonored and the necessary proceedings on dishonor be duly taken, he will pay the amount thereof to the holder, or to any subsequent indorser who may be compelled to pay it.

SEC. 3150. Where a person places his indorsement on an instrument negotiable by delivery, he incurs all the liabilities of an indorser.

SEC. 3151. As respects one another, indorsers are liable prima facie in the order in which they indorse; but evidence is admissible to show that as between or among themselves they have agreed otherwise. Joint payees or joint indorsers who indorse are deemed to indorse jointly or severally.

SEC. 3152. Where a broker or other agent negotiates an instrument without indorsement, he incurs all the liabilities prescribed by section thirty one hundred and forty-eight, unless he discloses the name of his principal, and the fact that he is acting only as agent.

ARTICLE VII.

PRESENTMENT FOR PAYMENT.

- Section 3153. Effect of want of demand on principal debtor.
3154. Presentment; instrument not payable on demand.
3155. What constitutes sufficient presentment.
3156. Place of presentment.
3157. Instrument must be exhibited.
3158. Presentment where instrument payable at bank.
3159. Presentment where principal debtor is dead.
3160. Presentment to persons liable as partners.
3161. Presentment to joint debtors.
3162. When presentment not required to change the drawer.
3163. When presentment not required to change the indorser.
3164. When delay in making presentment is excused.
3165. When presentment may be dispensed with.
3166. When instrument dishonored by non-payment.
3167. Liability of person secondarily liable, when instrument dishonored.
3168. Time of maturity.
3169. Time; how computed.
3170. Rule where instrument payable at bank.
3171. What constitutes payment in due course.

SEC. 3153. Presentment for payment is not necessary in order to charge the person primarily liable on the instrument; but if the instrument is, by its terms, payable at a special place, and he is able and willing to pay it there at maturity, such ability and willingness are equivalent to a tender of payment upon his part. But except as in this title otherwise provided, presentment for payment is necessary in order to charge the drawer and indorsers.

SEC. 3154. Where the instrument is not payable on demand, presentment must be made on the day it falls due. Where it is payable on demand, presentment must be made within a reasonable time after it is due, except that in the case of a bill of exchange, presentment for payment will be sufficient if made within a reasonable time after the last negotiation thereof.

SEC. 3155. Presentment for payment, to be sufficient, must be made:

1. By the holder, or by some person authorized to receive payment on his behalf.
2. At a reasonable hour on a business day.
3. At a proper place as herein defined.
4. To the person primarily liable on the instrument, or, if he is absent or inaccessible, to any person found at the place where the presentment is made.

SEC. 3156. Presentment for payment is made at the proper place:

1. Where a place of payment is specified in the instrument and it is there presented.
2. Where no place of payment is specified, but the address of the person to make payment is given in the instrument and is there presented.
3. Where no place of payment is specified and no address is given and the instrument is presented at the usual place of business or residence of the person to make payment.
4. In any other case if presented to the person to make payment wherever he can be found, or if presented at his last known place of business or residence.

SEC. 3157. The instrument must be exhibited to the person from whom payment is demanded, and when it is paid must be delivered up to the party paying it.

SEC. 3158. Where the instrument is payable at a bank, presentment for payment must be made during banking hours, unless the person to make payment has no funds there to meet it at any time during the day, in which case presentment at any hour before the bank is closed on that day is sufficient.

SEC. 3159. Where the person primarily liable on the instrument is dead, and no place of payment is specified, presentment for payment must be made to his personal representative if such there be, and if, with the exercise of reasonable diligence, he can be found.

SEC. 3160. Where the persons primarily liable on the instrument are liable as partners, and no place of payment is specified, presentment for payment may be made to any one of them, even though there has been a dissolution of the firm.

SEC. 3161. Where there are several persons, not partners, primarily liable on the instrument, and no place of payment is specified, presentment must be made to them all.

SEC. 3162. Presentment for payment is not required in order to charge the drawer where he has no right to expect or require that the drawee or acceptor will pay the instrument.

SEC. 3163. Presentment for payment is not required in order to charge an indorser where the instrument was made or accepted for his accommodation, and he has no reason to expect that the instrument will be paid if presented.

SEC. 3164. Delay in making presentment for payment is excused when the delay is caused by circumstances beyond the control of the holder, and not imputable to his default, misconduct, or negligence. When the cause of delay ceases to operate, presentment must be made with reasonable diligence.

SEC. 3165. Presentment for payment is dispensed with:

1. Where, after the exercise of reasonable diligence, presentment as required by this title cannot be made.
2. Where the drawee is a fictitious person.
3. By waiver of presentment, express or implied.

SEC. 3166. The instrument is dishonored by non-payment when:

1. It is duly presented for payment and payment is refused or cannot be obtained; or
2. Presentment is excused, and the instrument is overdue and unpaid.

SEC. 3167. Subject to the provisions of this title, when the instrument is dishonored by non-payment, an immediate right of recourse to all parties secondarily liable thereon, accrues to the holder.

SEC. 3168. Every negotiable instrument is payable at the time fixed therein without grace. When the day of maturity falls upon Sunday, or a holiday, the instrument is payable on the next succeeding business day. Instruments falling due on Saturday are to be presented for payment on the next succeeding business day, except that instruments payable on demand may, at the option of the holder, be presented for payment before twelve o'clock noon on Saturday, when that entire day is not a holiday.

SEC. 3169. Where the instrument is payable at a fixed period after date, after sight, or after the happening of a specified event, the time of payment is determined by excluding the day from which the time is to begin to run, and by including the date of payment.

SEC. 3170. Where the instrument is made payable at a bank, it is equivalent to an order to the bank to pay the same for the account of the principal debtor thereon.

SEC. 3171. Payment is made in due course when it is made at or after the maturity of the instrument to the holder thereof in good faith and without notice that his title is defective.

ARTICLE VIII.

NOTICE OF DISHONOR.

Section 3172.	To whom notice of dishonor must be given
3173.	By whom given.
3174.	Notice by agent.
3175.	Effect of notice on behalf of holder.
3176.	Effect of notice given by party entitled.
3177.	When agent may give notice.
3178.	Sufficiency of notice.
3179.	Form of notice.
3180.	Whom notice may be given to.
3181.	Notice where party is dead.
3182.	Notice to partners.
3183.	Notice to persons jointly liable.
3184.	Notice to bankrupt.
3185.	Time within which notice must be given.
3186.	Where parties reside in same place.
3187.	Where parties reside in different places.
3188.	When sender directed to have given due notice.
3189.	Deposit in post office, what constitutes.
3190.	Notice to subsequent parties, time of.
3191.	Where notice must be sent.
3192.	Waiver of notice.
3193.	Who affected by waiver.
3194.	Waiver of protest.
3195.	When notice dispensed with.
3196.	Delay in giving notice, how excused.
3197.	When notice need not be given to drawer.
3198.	When notice need not be given to indorser.
3199.	Notice of non-payment where acceptance refused.
3200.	Effect of omission to give notice of non-acceptance.
3201.	Protest, when required.

SEC. 3172. Except as herein otherwise provided, when a negotiable instrument has been dishonored by non-acceptance or non-payment, notice of dishonor must be given to the drawer and to each indorser, and any drawer or indorser to whom such notice is not given is discharged.

SEC. 3173. The notice may be given by or on behalf of the holder, or by or on behalf of any party to the instrument who might be compelled to pay it to the holder, and who upon taking it up would have a right to reimbursement from the party to whom the notice is given.

SEC. 3174. Notice of dishonor may be given by an agent either in his own name or in the name of any party entitled to give notice, whether that party be his principal or not.

SEC. 3175. Where notice is given by or on behalf of the holder, it inures for the benefit of all subsequent holders and all prior parties who have a right of recourse against the party to whom it is given.

SEC. 3176. Where notice is given by or on behalf of a party entitled to give notice, it inures for the benefit of the holder and all parties subsequent to the party to whom notice is given.

SEC. 3177. Where the instrument has been dishonored in the hands of an agent, he may either himself give notice to the parties liable thereon, or he may give notice to his principal. If he give notice to his principal, he must do so within the same time as if he were the holder, and the principal upon the receipt of such notice has himself the same time for giving notice as if the agent had been an independent holder.

SEC. 3178. A written notice need not be signed, and an insufficient written notice may be supplemented and validated by verbal communication. A misdescription of the instrument does not vitiate the notice unless the party to whom the notice is given is in fact misled thereby.

SEC. 3179. The notice may be in writing or merely oral and may be given in any terms which sufficiently identify the instrument, and indicate that it has been dishonored by non-acceptance or non-payment. It may in all cases be given by delivering it personally or through the mails.

SEC. 3180. Notice of dishonor may be given either to the party himself or to his agent in that behalf.

SEC. 3181. When any party is dead, and his death is known to the party giving notice, the notice must be given to a personal representative, if there be one, and if with reasonable diligence he can be found. If there be no personal representative, notice may be sent to the last residence or last place of business of the deceased.

SEC. 3182. Where the parties to be notified are partners, notice to any one partner is notice to the firm, even though there has been a dissolution.

SEC. 3183. Notice to joint parties who are not partners must be given to each of them, unless one of them has authority to receive such notice for the others.

SEC. 3184. Where a party has been adjudged a bankrupt or an insolvent, or has made an assignment for the benefit of creditors, notice may be given either to the party himself or to his trustee or assignee.

SEC. 3185. Notice may be given as soon as the instrument is dishonored; and unless delay is excused as hereinafter provided, must be given within the times fixed by this title.

SEC. 3186. Where the person giving and the person to receive notice reside in same place, notice must be given within the following times:

1. If given at the place of business of the person to receive notice, it must be given before the close of business hours on the day following;

2. If given at his residence, it must be given before the usual hours of rest on the day following;

3. If sent by mail, it must be deposited in the post office in time to reach him in the usual course on the day following.

SEC. 3187. Where the person giving and the person to receive notice reside in different places, the notice must be given within the following times:

1. If sent by mail, it must be deposited in the post office in time to go by mail the day following the day of dishonor, or if there be no mail at a convenient hour on that day, by the next mail thereafter.

2. If given otherwise than through the post office, then within the time that notice would have been received in due course of mail, if it had been deposited in the post office within the time specified in the last subdivision.

SEC. 3188. Where notice of dishonor is duly addressed and deposited in the post office, the sender is deemed to have given due notice, notwithstanding any miscarriage in the mails.

SEC. 3189. Notice is deemed to have been deposited in the post office when deposited in any branch post office, or in any letter box under the control of the post office department.

SEC. 3190. Where a party receives notice of dishonor, he has, after the receipt of such notice, the same time for giving notice to antecedent parties, that the holder has after the dishonor.

SEC. 3191. Where a party has added an address to his signature, notice of dishonor must be sent to that address; but if he is not given such address, then the notice must be sent as follows:

1. Either to the post office nearest his place of residence, or to the post office where he is accustomed to receive his letters; or

2. If he lives in one place and have his place of business in another, notice may be sent to either place; or

3. If he is sojourning in another place, notice may be sent to the place where he is sojourning.

But where the notice is actually received by the party within the time specified in this title, it will be sufficient, though not sent in accordance with the requirements of this section.

SEC. 3192. Notice of dishonor may be waived, either before the time of giving notice has arrived, or after the omission to give due notice, and the waiver may be express or implied.

SEC. 3193. Where the waiver is embodied in the instrument itself, it is binding upon all parties; but where it is written above the signature of an indorser, it binds him only.

SEC. 3194. A waiver of protest, whether in the case of a foreign bill of exchange, or other negotiable instrument, is deemed to be a waiver, not only of a formal protest, but also of presentment and notice of dishonor.

SEC. 3195. Notice of dishonor is dispensed with, when, after the exercise of reasonable diligence, it cannot be given to, or does not reach, the parties sought to be charged.

SEC. 3196. Delay in giving notice of dishonor is excused when the delay is caused by circumstances beyond the control of the holder, and not imputable to his default, misconduct, or negligence. When the cause of delay ceases to operate, notice must be given with reasonable diligence.

SEC. 3197. Notice of dishonor is not required to be given to the drawer in either of the following cases:

1. Where the drawer and drawee are the same person.

2. When the drawee is a fictitious person, or a person not having capacity to contract.

3. When the drawer is the person to whom the instrument is presented for payment.
4. Where the drawer has no right to expect or require that the drawee or acceptor will honor the instrument.

5. Where the drawer has countermanded payment.

SEC. 3199. Notice of dishonor is not required to be given to an indorser in either of the following cases:

1. Where the drawee is a fictitious person, or a person not having capacity to contract, and the indorser was aware of the fact at the time he indorsed the instrument.

2. Where the indorser is the person to whom the instrument is presented for payment.

3. Where the instrument was made or accepted for his accommodation.

SEC. 3199. Where due notice of dishonor by non-acceptance has been given, notice of a subsequent dishonor by non-payment is not necessary, unless in the meantime the instrument has been accepted.

SEC. 3200. An omission to give notice of dishonor by non-acceptance does not prejudice the rights of a holder in due course subsequent to the omission.

SEC. 3201. Where any negotiable instrument has been dishonored, it may be protested for non-acceptance, or non-payment, as the case may be; but protest is not required except in the case of foreign bills of exchange.

ARTICLE IX.

DISCHARGE OF NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS.

Section 3202. Instrument; how discharged.

3203. When persons secondarily liable, discharge.

3204. Right of party who discharged instrument.

3205. Renunciation by holder.

3206. Cancellation; unintentional; burden of proof.

3207. Alteration of instrument.

3208. What is a material alteration.

SEC. 3202. A negotiable instrument is discharged:

1. By payment in due course by or on behalf of the principal debtor.

2. By payment in due course by the party accommodated, where the instrument is made or accepted for accommodation.

3. By the intentional cancellation thereof by the holder.

4. By any other act which will discharge a simple contract for the payment of money.

5. When the principal debtor becomes the holder of the instrument at or after maturity in his own right.

SEC. 3203. A person secondarily liable on the instrument is discharged:

1. By any act which discharges the instrument.

2. By the intentional cancellation of his signature by the holder.

3. By the discharge of a prior party.

4. By a valid tender of payment made by a prior party.

5. By a release of the principal debtor, unless the holder's right of recourse against the party secondarily liable is expressly reserved.

6. By any agreement binding upon the holder to extend the time of payment, or to postpone the holder's right to enforce the instrument, unless made with the assent of the party secondarily liable, or unless the right of recourse against such party is expressly reserved.

SEC. 3204. Where the instrument is paid by a party secondarily liable thereon, it is not discharged; but the party so paying it is remitted to his former rights as regards all prior parties, and he may strike out his own and all subsequent indorsements, and again negotiate the instrument, except:

1. Where it is payable to the order of a third person, and has been paid by the drawer; and

2. Where it was made or accepted for accommodation, and has been paid by the party accommodated.

SEC. 3205. The holder may expressly renounce his rights against any party to the instrument before, at, or after its maturity. An absolute and unconditional renunciation of his rights against the principal debtor made at or after the maturity of the instrument discharges the instrument. But a renunciation does not affect the rights of a holder in due course without notice. A renunciation must be in writing, unless the instrument is delivered up to the person primarily liable thereon.

SEC. 3206. A cancellation made unintentionally, or under a mistake, or without the authority of the holder, is inoperative; but where an instrument or any signature thereon appears to have been canceled, the burden of proof lies on the party who alleges that the cancellation was made unintentionally, or under a mistake or without authority.

SEC. 3207. Where a negotiable instrument is materially altered without the assent of all parties liable thereon, it is avoided, except as against a party who has himself made, authorized, or assented to the alteration and subsequent indorsers. But when an instrument has been materially altered and is in the hands of a holder in due course, not a party to the alteration, he may enforce payment thereof according to its original tenor.

SEC. 3208. Any alteration which changes:

1. The date.

2. The sum payable, either principal or interest.

3. The time or place of payment.

4. The number or the relations of the parties.

5. The medium or currency in which payment is to be made.

Or which adds a place of payment where no place of payment is specified, or any other change or addition which alters the effect of the instrument in any respect, is a material alteration.

CHAPTER II.

BILLS OF ACCEPTANCE.

ARTICLE I. Form and Interpretation. [§3209-3214.]

- II. Acceptance. [§3215-3225.]
- III. Presentment for acceptance. [§3226-3234.]
- IV. Protest. [§3235-3243.]
- V. Acceptance for honor. [§3244-3253.]
- VI. Payment for honor. [§3254-3261.]
- VII. Bills in a set. [§3262-3266.]

ARTICLE I.

FORM AND INTERPRETATION.

Section 3209. Bills of exchange defined.

- 3210. Where an assignment of funds in hands of drawee.
- 3211. Bill addressed to more than one drawee.
- 3212. Inland and foreign bills of exchange.
- 3213. When bill may be treated as promissory note.
- 3214. Referee in case of need.

SEC. 3209. A bill of exchange is an unconditional order in writing addressed by one person to another, signed by the person giving it, requiring the person to whom it is addressed to pay on demand, or at a fixed or determinable future time, a sum certain in money to order or to bearer.

SEC. 3210. A bill of itself does not operate as an assignment of the funds in the hands of the drawee available for the payment thereof, and the drawee is not liable on the bill unless and until he accepts the same.

SEC. 3211. A bill may be addressed to two or more drawees jointly, whether they are partners or not; but not to two or more drawees in the alternative or in succession.

SEC. 3212. An inland bill of exchange is a bill which is, or on its face purports to be, both drawn and payable within this State. Any other bill is a foreign bill. Unless the contrary appears on the face of the bill, the holder may treat it as an inland bill.

SEC. 3213. Where in a bill drawer and drawee are the same person, or where the drawee is a fictitious person, or a person not having capacity to contract, the holder may treat the instrument, at his option, either as a bill of exchange or a promissory note.

SEC. 3214. The drawer of a bill and any indorser may insert thereon the name of a person to whom the holder may resort in case of need, that is to say, in case the bill is dishonored by non-acceptance or non-payment. Such person is called the referee in case of need. It is in the option of the holder to resort to the referee in case of need or not as he may see fit.

ARTICLE II.

ACCEPTANCE.

Section 3215. Acceptance, how made.

- 3216. Holder entitled to acceptance on bill.
- 3217. Acceptance by separate instrument.
- 3218. Promise to accept, when equivalent to acceptance.
- 3219. Time allowed drawee to accept.
- 3220. Liability of drawee retaining or destroying bill.
- 3221. Acceptance of incomplete bill.
- 3222. Acceptance either general or qualified.
- 3223. What constitutes a general acceptance.
- 3224. Qualified acceptance.
- 3225. Rights of parties on qualified acceptance.

SEC. 3215. The acceptance of a bill is the signification by the drawee of his assent to the order of the drawer. The acceptance must be in writing and signed by the drawee. It must not express that the drawee will perform his promise by any other means than the payment of money.

SEC. 3216. The holder of a bill presenting the same for acceptance may require that the acceptance be written on the bill, and if such request is refused, may treat the bill as dishonored.

SEC. 3217. Where an acceptance is written on a paper other than the bill itself, it does not bind the acceptor except in favor of a person to whom it is shown, and who, on the faith thereof, receives the bill for value.

SEC. 3218. An unconditional promise in writing to accept a bill before it is drawn is deemed an actual acceptance in favor of every person who, upon the faith thereof, receives the bill for value.

SEC. 3219. The drawee is allowed twenty four hours after presentment in which to decide whether or not he will accept the bill; but the acceptance, if given, dates as of the day of presentation.

SEC. 3220. Where a drawee to whom a bill is delivered for acceptance destroys the same, or refuses within twenty-four hours after such delivery, or within such other period as the holder may allow, to return the bill accepted or non-accepted to the holder, he will be deemed to have accepted the same.

Sec. 3221. A bill may be accepted before it has been signed by the drawer, or while otherwise incomplete, or when it is overdue, or after it has been dishonored by a previous refusal to accept, or by non-payment. But when a bill payable after sight is dishonored by non-acceptance and the drawee subsequently accepts it, the holder, in the absence of any different agreement, is entitled to have the bill accepted as of the date of the first presentment.

Sec. 3222. An acceptance is either general or qualified. A general acceptance assents without qualification to the order of the drawer. A qualified acceptance in express terms varies the effect of the bill as drawn.

Sec. 3223. An acceptance to pay at a particular place is a general acceptance, unless it expressly states that the bill is to be paid there only and not elsewhere.

Sec. 3224. An acceptance is qualified, which is:

1. Conditional, that is to say, which makes payment by the acceptor dependent on the fulfillment of a condition therein stated.

2. Partial, that is to say, an acceptance to pay part only of the amount for which the bill is drawn.

3. Local, that is to say, an acceptance to pay only at a particular place.

4. Qualified as to time.

5. The acceptance of some one or more of the drawees, but not of all.

Sec. 3225. The holder may refuse to take a qualified acceptance, and if he does not obtain an unqualified acceptance he may treat the bill as dishonored by non-acceptance. Where a qualified acceptance is taken the drawer and indorsers are discharged from liability on the bill, unless they have expressly or impliedly authorized the holder to take a qualified acceptance, or subsequently assent thereto. When the drawer or an indorser receives notice of a qualified acceptance he must within a reasonable time express his dissent to the holder, or he will be deemed to have assented thereto.

ARTICLE III.

PRESENTMENT.

Section 3226. Presentment; when must be made.

3227. When failure to present releases drawer and indorser.

3228. Presentment; how made.

3229. On what days presentment may be made.

3230. Presentment; where time is insufficient.

3231. When presentment is excused.

3232. When dishonored by non-acceptance.

3233. Duty of holder where bill not accepted.

3234. Rights of holder where bill not accepted.

Sec. 3226. Presentment for acceptance must be made:

1. Where the bill is payable after sight, or in any other case, where presentment for acceptance is necessary in order to fix the maturity of the instrument; or

2. Where the bill expressly stipulates that it shall be presented for acceptance; or

3. Where the bill is drawn payable elsewhere than at the residence or place of business of the drawee.

In no other case is presentment for acceptance necessary in order to render any party to the bill liable.

Sec. 3227. Except as in this title otherwise provided, the holder of a bill which is required by the next preceding section to be presented for acceptance must either present it for acceptance or negotiate it within a reasonable time. If he fail to do so, the drawer and all indorsers are discharged.

Sec. 3228. Presentment for acceptance must be made by or on behalf of the holder at a reasonable hour, on a business day, and before the bill is overdue, to the drawee or some person authorized to accept or refuse acceptance on his behalf; and:

1. Where a bill is addressed to two or more drawees who are not partners, presentment must be made to them all, unless one has a authority to accept or refuse acceptance for all, in which case presentment may be made to him only.

2. Where the drawee is dead, presentment may be made to his personal representative.

3. Where the drawee has been adjudged a bankrupt or an insolvent, or has made an assignment for the benefit of creditors, presentment may be made to him or to his trustee or assignee.

Sec. 3229. A bill may be presented for acceptance on any day on which negotiable instruments may be presented for payment under the provisions of sections thirty-one hundred and fifty-five and thirty-one hundred and sixty-eight of this title. When Saturday is not otherwise a holiday, presentment for acceptance may be made before twelve o'clock, noon, on that day.

Sec. 3230. Where the holder of a bill drawn payable elsewhere than at the place of business or the residence of the drawee has not time, with the exercise of reasonable diligence, to present the bill for acceptance before presenting it for payment on the day that it falls due, the delay caused by presenting the bill for acceptance before presenting it for payment is excused and does not discharge the drawers and indorsers.

Sec. 3231. Presentment for acceptance is excused and a bill may be treated as dishonored by non-acceptance, in either of the following cases:

1. Where the drawee is dead, or has absconded, or is a fictitious person or a person not having capacity to contract by bill.

2. Where after the exercise of reasonable diligence, presentment cannot be made.

3. Where although presentment has been irregular, acceptance has been refused on some other ground.

SEC. 3232. A bill is dishonored by non-acceptance:

1. When it is duly presented for acceptance and such an acceptance as is prescribed by this title is refused or cannot be obtained; or

2. When a presentment for acceptance is excused and the bill is not accepted.

SEC. 3233. Where a bill is duly presented for acceptance and is not accepted within the prescribed time, the person presenting it must treat the bill as dishonored by non-acceptance or he loses the right of recourse against the drawer and indorsers.

SEC. 3234. When a bill is dishonored by non-acceptance, an immediate right of recourse against the drawers and indorsers accrues to the holder and no presentment for payment is necessary.

ARTICLE IV.

PROTEST.

Section 3235. In what cases protest necessary.

3236. Protest; how made.

3237. Protest; by whom made.

3238. Protest; when to be made.

3239. Protest; where made.

3240. Protest; both for non-acceptance and non-payment.

3241. Protest before maturity where acceptor insolvent.

3242. Protest; when dispensed with.

3243. Protest; where bill is lost or detained.

SEC. 3235. Where a foreign bill appearing on its face to be such is dishonored by non-acceptance, it must be duly protested for non-acceptance, and where such a bill had not previously been dishonored by non-acceptance is dishonored by non-payment, it must be duly protested for non-payment. If it is not so protested, the drawer and indorsers are discharged. Where a bill does not appear on its face to be a foreign bill, protest in case of dishonor is unnecessary.

SEC. 3236. The protest must be annexed to the bill, or must contain a copy thereof; and must be under the hand and seal of the notary making it, and must specify:

1. The time and place of presentment.

2. The fact that presentment was made and the manner thereof.

3. The cause or reason for protesting the bill.

4. The demand made and the answer given, if any, or the fact that the drawee or acceptor could not be found.

SEC. 3237. Protest may be made by:

1. A notary public; or

2. By any respectable resident of the place where the bill is dishonored, in the presence of two or more credible witnesses.

SEC. 3238. When a bill is protested, such protest must be made on the day of its dishonor, unless delay is excused as in this title provided. When a bill has been duly noted, the protest may be subsequently extended as of the date of the noting.

SEC. 3239. A bill must be protested at the place where it is dishonored, except that when a bill drawn payable at the place of business or residence of some person other than the drawee, has been dishonored by non-acceptance, it must be protested for non-payment at the place where it is expressed to be payable, and no further presentment for payment to, or demand on, the drawee is necessary.

SEC. 3240. A bill which has been protested for non-acceptance may be subsequently protested for non-payment.

SEC. 3241. Where the acceptor has been adjudged a bankrupt or an insolvent or has made an assignment for the benefit of creditors, before the bill matures, the holder may cause the bill to be protested for better security against the drawer and indorsers.

SEC. 3242. Protest is dispensed with by any circumstances which would dispense with notice of dishonor. Delay in noting or protesting is excused when delay is caused by circumstances beyond the control of the holder and not imputable to his default, misconduct, or negligence. When the cause of delay ceases to operate, the bill must be noted or protested with reasonable diligence.

SEC. 3243. Where a bill is lost or destroyed or is wrongly detained from the person entitled to hold it, protest may be made on a copy or written particulars thereof.

ARTICLE V.

ACCEPTANCE FOR HONOR.

Section 3244. When bill may be accepted for honor.

3245. Acceptance for honor; how made.

3246. When deemed to be an acceptance for honor of the drawer.

3247. Liability of acceptor for honor.

3248. Agreement of acceptor for honor.

3249. Maturity of bill payable after sight; accepted for honor.

3250. Protest of bill accepted for honor.

3251. Presentment for payment to acceptor for honor; how made.

3252. When delay in making presentment is excused.

3253. Dishonor of bill by acceptor for honor.

SEC. 3244. When a bill of exchange has been protested for dishonor by non-acceptance or protested for better security, and is not overdue, any person not being a party already liable thereon may, with the consent of the holder, intervene and accept the bill supra protest for the honor of any party liable thereon or for the honor of the person for whose account the bill is drawn. The acceptance for honor may be for part only of the sum for which the bill is drawn; and where there has been an acceptance for honor for one party, there may be a further acceptance by a different person for the honor of another party.

SEC. 3245. An acceptance for honor supra protest must be in writing, and indicate that it is an acceptance for honor, and must be signed by the acceptor for honor.

SEC. 3246. Where an acceptance for honor does not expressly state for whose honor it is made, it is deemed to be an acceptance for the honor of the drawer.

SEC. 3247. The acceptor for honor is liable to the holder, and to all parties to the bill subsequent to the party for whose honor he has accepted.

SEC. 3248. The acceptor for honor by such acceptance engages that he will, on due presentment, pay the bill according to the terms of his acceptance; provided, it shall not have been paid by the drawee; and provided also, that it shall have been duly presented for payment and protested for non-payment, and notice of dishonor given to him.

SEC. 3249. Where a bill payable after sight is accepted for honor, its maturity is calculated from the date of the noting for non-acceptance, and not from the date of the acceptance for honor.

SEC. 3250. Where a dishonored bill has been accepted for honor supra protest or contains a reference in case of need, it must be protested for non-payment before it is presented for payment to the acceptor for honor or referee in case of need.

SEC. 3251. Presentment for payment to the acceptor for honor must be made as follows:

1. If it is to be presented in the place where the protest for non-payment was made, it must be presented not later than the day following its maturity.

2. If it is to be presented in some other place than the place where it was protested, then it must be forwarded within the time specified in section thirty-one hundred and eighty-seven.

SEC. 3252. The provisions of section thirty-one hundred and sixty-four apply where there is delay in making presentment to the acceptor for honor or referee in case of need.

SEC. 3253. When the bill is dishonored by the acceptor for honor it must be protested for non-payment by him.

ARTICLE VI.

PAYMENT FOR HONOR.

Section 3254. Who may make payment for honor.

3255. Payment for honor; how made.

3256. Declaration before payment.

3257. Preference of parties offering to pay.

3258. Effect on subsequent parties where bill is paid for honor.

3259. Where holder refuses to receive payment supra protest.

3260. Rights of payer for honor.

The acting President thereupon ruled that a Senator was privileged to change his vote before the announcement of the result of the roll call, but held that a motion to reconsider having been decided, the decision could not be reconsidered, and no question could be twice reconsidered; therefore, the Senator's intended notice of motion to reconsider could not be entertained by the Chair in the event such notice were given.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The following messages from the Governor were taken up and read:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, STATE OF CALIFORNIA,
SACRAMENTO, February 23, 1899.

To the Senate of the State of California :

I herewith return to your honorable body, without my approval, Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 151, with my objections thereto.

An Act for the relief of John N. E. Wilson, ex-Insurance Commissioner of the State of California, and of James D. Byrnes and Frank C. De Long, the bondsmen of said John N. E. Wilson, ex-Insurance Commissioner, and authorizing the Attorney General of the State of California to enter satisfaction of judgment for the sum of $4,663 82, in full settlement of the suit entitled "The People of the State of California, upon the complaint of E. P. Colgan, as Controller of said State, plaintiff, vs. John N. E. Wilson, Frank C. De Long, and James D. Byrnes, defendants."

This bill, in substance, authorizes the Attorney-General, in consideration of an assignment by J. N. E. Wilson to the State of California of all his right and interest in and to any moneys collected by said Wilson as Insurance Commissioner, and deposited by him in the Pacific Bank of San Francisco, to settle and dismiss a certain action wherein the People of the State of California ex rel. E. P. Colgan, State Controller, is plaintiff, and J. N. E. Wilson, F. C. De Long, and J. D. Byrnes are defendants, and wherein judgment was obtained against Mr. Wilson, and J. D. Byrnes and F. C. De Long, his sureties, in the Superior Court of the County of Sacramento. The action was commenced by the People March 1, 1894, to recover the sum of $2,988 41, fees collected and unlawfully withheld by Mr. Wilson for the month of June, 1893, together with a twenty-five per cent penalty, and with interest at ten per cent, as provided by law. Judgment was rendered against said Wilson for $4,663 82 on February 20, 1895, and against F. C. De Long April 8, 1895, and against J. D. Byrnes January 18, 1897.

On December 28, 1894, Mr. Wilson paid into court from fees in his hands the sum of $649 93 in partial settlement; but withheld, without any legal right, the sum of $400 on account on his salary. No other accounts have been paid upon the claim of the State.

An appeal was taken by Mr. Wilson to the Supreme Court, and the judgment was affirmed June 14, 1897, the case being reported in Vol CVII, California Reports, p. 242 et seq., where it was held that Mr. Wilson's act in depositing the money in bank was wholly unlawful.

The present bill seeks to relieve Mr. Wilson and his sureties from the judgment against them. The amount of money, if any, in the Pacific Bank, which is proposed by this bill to be paid in settlement of the judgment, is not shown; nor does there appear to be any reason why Mr. Wilson and his sureties should be relieved from the consequences of the judgment. It is well known that the Pacific Bank went into insolvency, and the proposed assignment of any money deposited therein by Mr. Wilson may prove a very poor bargain for the State.

Inasmuch as a judgment was obtained against Mr. Wilson February 20, 1895, it seems strange that Mr. Wilson did not previously assign to the State his interest in the money so deposited, especially as he contended in court that the money in bank belonged to the State, and that the State should suffer the loss through the failure of the bank.

I have thus far called the attention of your honorable body to the circumstances surrounding the judgment, in order to consider whether this bill for relief could have an equitable foundation. I now further call your attention to the fact that the bill flatly contravenes subdivision 16 of Section 25 of Article IV of the State Constitution, which reads as follows:

"The Legislature shall not pass local or special laws in any of the following enumerated cases, that is to say:

"Sixteenth—Releasing or extinguishing in whole or in part the indebtedness, liability, or obligation of any corporation or person to this State, or to any municipal corporation therein."

It is clear, therefore, that Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 151 is in violation of this constitutional provision, and therefore void.

HENRY T. GAGE,
Governor of the State of California.

Referred to Committee on Executive Communications and Nominations.

Also:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, STATE OF CALIFORNIA,
SACRAMENTO, February 23, 1899.

To the Senate of the State of California :

I have the honor to inform your honorable body that I have this day approved Senate Bill No. 593—An Act to appropriate $7,500 for the purpose of sending an expert to Australia, New Zealand, or other countries, to collect and import into this State for general distribution parasitical and predaceous insects which in those countries prey upon such species of fruit and tree pests as abound in the orchards of this State.

As your honorable body and the Assembly have both declared that an immediate necessity exists for this appropriation by twice passing this measure, and the amount specified in the bill being reduced from $10,000 to $7,500, I have therefore approved the bill.

HENRY T. GAGE,
Governor of the State of California.

Also:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, STATE OF CALIFORNIA,
SACRAMENTO, February 23, 1899. }

To the Senate of the State of California:

I have the honor to inform your honorable body that I have approved Senate Bill No. 421—An Act to amend Section 1195 of the Political Code.

HENRY T. GAGE,
Governor of the State of California.

Also:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, STATE OF CALIFORNIA,
SACRAMENTO, February 23, 1899. }

To the Senate of the State of California:

I have the honor to inform your honorable body that I have approved Senate Bill No. 11—An Act to provide for the construction of a free wagon road from the Mono Lake Basin to connect with a road called "Tioga Road," at or near the Tioga Mine, and making an appropriation therefor.

I heartily approve of this bill for many reasons, among which are the following: The road is an urgent necessity for the two great producing classes the farmers and the miners, who reside on the east slope of the Sierras, between Sonora Pass on the north, and Walkers Pass on the south. There is no road over the mountains other than pack trails for a distance of over 250 miles. The citizens of our State residing in that section of the eastern slope have been compelled for many years to travel to Nevada to sell their products and to trade there, for the reason that they have had no accessible roadway to cities, towns, and valleys on the California side west of the mountains.

Though they have cheerfully borne their proportion of the taxes of California for many years, yet for want of a proper roadway they have not had the usual benefits incident to taxation. The great desire and necessity of the people of that part of the State for the construction of this road is manifested, among other things, by a very unusual offer on the part of some of the citizens in interest, which is to guarantee the construction of the road for the amount appropriated, and a tender to the State of a proper bond therefor. A further guaranty has been made by a number of leading citizens that the maintenance of the road shall never become "a claim upon or charge against the State of California." These guaranties have been filed with the Secretary of State. In view of the aforementioned and many other reasons, it is but just to the people inhabiting that region of the State, both east and west of the mountains, that this appropriation should be granted; hence I approve of the bill.

HENRY T. GAGE,
Governor of the State of California.

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 17.

Relative to the mineral lands within the railroad land grants in California, and the segregation and reservation of such mineral lands.

WHEREAS, The practical working of the Montana-Idaho Mineral Land Act, in properly classifying lands on railroad grants, has restored to the domain of the prospector and miner large tracts of mineral lands without detriment to railroad companies, and at very small cost to the Government; and

WHEREAS, A similar bill applied to California has been approved by the Secretary of the Interior and Commissioner of the General Land Office, and has received the indorsement of the Legislature of the State of California, as well as many public bodies in this State. It is of vast importance to California gold mining interests, as it would release to the prospector hundreds of thousands of acres of land now closed to him, would assist in populating regions now without inhabitants, and cause the foundation of many new mining camps; and

WHEREAS, Large tracts of valuable mineral land have presumably passed to the railroad companies in their grants, something never intended by the Government. The mineral lands are, by this bill, returned to the miners, and the railroads obtain others in their stead; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate and the Assembly, jointly, That we now earnestly urge immediate consideration of the measure now before Congress, to avoid further delay and further encroachment of the railroad companies upon the mineral domain of California; and be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate of the State of California be directed to forward a copy of this petition to the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and a copy to each of our Senators and Representatives in Congress.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE.

On request of Senator Davis, the following statement was ordered printed in the Journal, as explanation of his vote on the bill referred to:

MR. PRESIDENT: I desire to explain my vote on this bill. I am in favor of the Stratton primary bill—Senate Bill No. 30—and the principles therein contained. That bill has passed both houses, but has not yet been signed by the Governor. The bill now presented to us is an amendment to one of the sections of that bill, and is designed to promote its favorable consideration elsewhere. I must, however, vote against the bill now presented, because it purports to be an amendment of a section of the Political Code not yet in existence. I suggest that the proper way to accomplish the object desired by the Senator from Alameda would be to take the primary bill in the Assembly, which is an exact duplicate of Senate Bill No. 30, and is now upon second reading in that body, amend it in accordance with the ideas now submitted by the Senator from Alameda, and, under the usual emergency resolution, have it passed by both houses to-day, and sent to the Governor.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE.

On request of Senator Stratton, the following statement was ordered printed in the Journal, as explanation of his vote on the bill referred to:

MR. PRESIDENT: I desire to explain my vote upon Assembly Bill No. 651. I have voted in the negative, but did not enter into a discussion of the question. Personally, there is no measure which I have a greater degree of interest in than the passage of this bill, for the reason that it favorably affects, I believe, some friends of mine who reside in my district. I cannot, however, conscientiously bring myself to its support, and it is with regret that I am obliged to take this position. In Section 32, Article IV of the Constitution, the Legislature is prohibited from legalizing the employment of agents or authorizing payments thereto, where their services have been rendered under any contract not authorized by law. This, therefore, would prohibit payment for past services. In so far as the future services are concerned, I deem the amount named in the bill and the condition of the measure now pending before Congress to be such that the compensation to the agents is altogether too large. I therefore have not found myself free to support the measure.

At three o'clock and fifteen minutes p. m., Hon. R. N. Bulla, State Senator from the Thirty-seventh Senatorial District, in the chair.

The People of the State of California, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Any person desiring to locate a mining claim must distinctly mark the location on the ground, so that its boundaries may be readily traced, and post, in some conspicuous place on such location, a written or printed notice which shall contain the name of the lode or claim, the name of the location or locations, the date of location, the number of feet in length claimed along the vein, the number of feet in width on each side of the center of the vein, the general course of the vein as near as may be, and such other description thereof, by reference to some natural object or permanent monument, as will identify the claim; and, also, within thirty days after posting such notice, cause to be recorded a copy thereof in the office of the Mining District Recorder, if there be one, and the County Recorder of the mining district or county in which such claim is situated.

SEC. 2. It shall be the duty of the County Recorder of any county, upon the receipt of a copy of the by-laws, rules and regulations adopted at a miners' meeting organizing a mining district, and describing the boundaries thereof, in said county, to record the same in a book to be kept in his office as other county records, to be called a book of record of mining claims. All notices of locations of mining claims heretofore recorded in such district records or in the office of the County Recorder are hereby declared valid, and any such record, or a copy thereof, duly verified by a mining recorder or duly certified by a County Recorder, may be received in evidence with the same effect as the originals.

SEC. 6. Within thirty days from the date of the posting of the notice of location, the locator must distinctly mark his location on the ground so that its boundaries can readily be traced.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE.

On request of Senator Curtin, the following statement was ordered printed in the Journal, as explanation of his vote on the resolution referred to:

MR. PRESIDENT: I voted in favor of the adoption of this resolution on the grounds: 1. That while the resolution adopted in 1897, empowering this committee to make certain investigations, did not in terms direct the investigation of the San Francisco Depot contracts, it did contain language broad enough to include it as one of the affairs to be investigated, and the committee having in good faith proceeded in that direction, giving their time and attention to that investigation, and without compensation, I would not assume that they acted in that behalf upon other than the highest motives of good faith. I am opposed to all such commissions, but the error cannot be now cured by refusing to pay claims arising, as in this instance, and therefore voted in favor of the adoption of the resolution.

RECESS.

Neff, President of the Senate, announced that the hour heretofore set for meeting with the other branch of the Legislature in Joint Assembly, for the purpose of electing a United States Senator to succeed the Hon. MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR.

On motion of Senator Bettman, the following messages from the Governor were taken up and read:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, STATE OF CALIFORNIA, }
SACRAMENTO, February 23, 1899. }

To the Senate of the State of California:

I herewith return to your honorable body, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 82—

An Act authorizing the State Treasurer to furnish his office and the vault therein, and making an appropriation therefor—with my objections thereto.

The sum of $7,500, appropriated by this bill for furnishing the vault and other fixtures and repairs in the State Treasurer's office, is altogether excessive, as I have found after a personal examination.

In addition to this objection, the amount appropriated is made payable this year, instead of being made payable on or after January 1, 1900.

HENRY T. GAGE,
Governor of the State of California.

Also:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, STATE OF CALIFORNIA, }
SACRAMENTO, March 2, 1899. }

To the Senate of the State of California:

I herewith return to your honorable body, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 118—An Act to pay the claim of Lawrence Dunnigan against the State of California, and making an appropriation therefor—with my objections thereto.

This bill attempts to authorize the Controller to draw his warrant in favor of one Lawrence Dunnigan for the sum of $5,000.

If Mr. Dunnigan has any claim against the State, it ought to be paid. If he has no legal claim against the State, the Legislature has no power to make him a gift of $5,000, or any other sum. (Section 30, Article IV of the Constitution.)

In this matter, so that justice may be done to Mr. Dunnigan in the premises, I would recommend that he be granted the right to sue the State.

Until such claim be legally established, I am compelled to disapprove of the bill under the Constitution.

HENRY T. GAGE,
Governor of the State of California.

The above communications from the Governor were referred to the Committee on Executive Communications and Nominations.

Also:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, STATE OF CALIFORNIA, }
SACRAMENTO, March 2, 1899. }

To the Senate of the State of California:

I have the honor to inform your honorable body that I have approved Senate Bill No. 211—An Act making an appropriation to pay the claim of Thomas Hatch.

HENRY T. GAGE,
Governor of the State of California.

Section 7½. The inhabitants of any county may determine the number of county and township officials, the number of deputies and the compensation of each for any such respective county, by causing a board of at least fifteen freeholders, who have been, for at least five years, qualified electors of such county, to be elected by the qualified electors of such county, at any general or special election, whose duty it shall be, within ninety days after such election, to prepare and propose an Act for such county, which shall be signed in duplicate by the members of such board, or a majority of them, and returned, one copy thereof, to the Board of Supervisors, or other legislative body of such county, and the other copy to be sent to the Recorder of Deeds of the county. forth the submission of such county Act to the electors, and its ratification by them, shall be made in duplicate and deposited, one in the office of the Secretary of State, the other, after being recorded in the office of the Recorder of Deeds in the county, among the archives of the county. All courts shall take judicial notice thereof. The county Act so ratified may be amended, at intervals of not less than two years, by proposals therefor, submitted by the legislative authority of the county, to the qualified electors thereof, at a general or special election held at least forty days after the publication of such proposals for twenty days in a newspaper of general circulation in such county, and ratified by at least three fifths of the qualified electors voting thereon, and approved by the Legislature as herein provided for the approval of the county Act. In submitting any such county Act, any alternative article or proposition may be presented for the choice of the voters, and may be voted on separately without prejudice to others. Said county Act shall, as to any of the matters hereinabove provided for and declared by such county Act, not be subject to any law or amendment enacted by the Legislature, except by amendment first submitted to the electors and ratified in the manner hereinabove set forth.

The boundaries of any incorporated town or city, whether heretofore or hereafter formed, incorporated, reincorporated, organized, or reorganized, may be altered, and new territory annexed thereto, incorporated, and included therein, and made a part thereof, upon proceedings being had and taken as in this Act provided. The Council, Board of Trustees, or other legislative body of such municipal corporation, upon receiving a written petition therefor containing a description of the new territory asked to be annexed to such corporation, and signed by not less than one fifth in number of the qualified electors of such municipal corporation, computed upon the number of votes cast at the last general municipal election held therein, may in their discretion, without delay, submit to the electors of such municipal corporation, and to the electors residing in the territory proposed by such petition to be annexed to such corporation, the question whether such new territory shall be annexed to, incorporated in, and made a part of such municipal corporation; provided, that such legislative body may provide for submitting the question of annexing two or more separate districts of outside territory at the same election. If more than one annexation proposition is to be voted on at the same election, then on the ballots used within the corporate limits of such municipality, the different outside districts shall be numbered, and shall be further described and designated by some name by which such district is usually known; the electors respectively in each of said districts so proposed to be annexed shall vote only on the question of annexation of such district in which he lives. Such legislative body is hereby empowered, and it shall be its duty, to establish, and in such notice of election designate the voting precinct or precincts, and the place or places, at which the polls will be opened in such territory or territories, as the case may be, so proposed to be annexed, and also in such municipal corporation. COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE FOR SENATE BILL NO. 334.

An Act to provide for the assessment, levy, and collection of an income tax.

The People of the State of California, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. From and after the passage of this Act there shall be assessed, levied, collected, and paid annually, in addition to all taxes now or hereafter provided for by law upon the gains, profits, and incomes derived in the preceding calendar year, by every person, company, association, or corporation, residing or doing business in this State, whether such gains, profits, or incomes be derived from any kind of property, rents, interest, or dividends from any business done, carried on, or arising in this State, or from any source whatever in this State, a tax of two per centum on the amount so derived on the excess over five thousand dollars, and a like tax shall be levied, collected and paid annually upon the gains, profits, and incomes from all property owned and of business carried on in this State by any person, company, association, or corporation residing or having their principal place of business out of this State; provided, however, that any owner of shares of stock, or interest in any company, association, or corporation taxed herein shall not be required to include in the statement specified in section three hereof as a portion of the gains, profits, and income herein specified, the earnings or dividends derived from said stock or interest. And in estimating the gains, profits, and incomes, there shall not be included interest upon such bonds or security as are by the law of their issue exempted from taxation.

SEC. 2. That in computing the gains, profits, and incomes mentioned in section one of this Act, the necessary expenses actually incurred in carrying on any business, occupation, or profession, not including remuneration to the taxpayer for personal supervision or the support or maintenance of himself, or herself, or his or her family, shall be deducted from the gross income or revenue, and the word "income" as used in this Act shall be deemed and taken to mean gross profits, and no deduction shall be made or allowed for any amount paid out or contracted for permanent improvements or betterment made to increase the value of any property or estate or increase the capital, capital stock, or assets.

SEC. 3. Every person, company, association, or corporation mentioned in section one of this Act shall, between the first days of January and March, nineteen hundred, and between the same dates of each year thereafter, make and cause to be filed with the State Board of Equalization a statement in writing of the gross income or revenue of such person, company, association, or corporation for the year ending December thirty-first last preceding, also a statement of the necessary expenses actually incurred in carrying on the business, occupation, or profession from which such income or revenue was derived. "I, ———, do swear that I am the person mentioned in the foregoing statement (the president, secretary, cashier, or managing agent of the association or corporation, or a member of the copartnership mentioned in the foregoing statement), that the same is the full, true, correct statement of the gross income and revenue derived by ——— from any and all business, occupation, or profession in which ——— been interested and carried on or arising in this State or from any source whatever in this State during the year ending December thirty-first last preceding the date of this affidavit. Also, that it contains a statement of the necessary expenses actually incurred in carrying on business, occupation, or profession, not including remuneration to the taxpayer for personal supervision for the support and maintenance of himself or herself, or his or her family. That ——— post office address is ———."

SEC. 4. The State Board of Equalization, between the first days of March and May, nineteen hundred, and between the same dates of every year thereafter, shall examine the statements filed as provided by section three hereof, and determine therefrom the amount of taxes which each person, company, association, or corporation is liable, and shall make a record in duplicate of the same in books to be kept for such purpose in their office, and shall, on completion of such record, deliver all of the said books to the State Treasurer, and said Board of Equalization shall, during the month of May of each of said years, notify said person, company, association, or corporation of the amount due from such person, company, association, or corporation; and the tax for which such person, company, association, or corporation is liable shall be due and payable at the office of the State Treasurer on the first day of June next thereafter; and if not paid on or before the first of July next following, the same shall be delinquent and may be collected by suit in the name of the State of California. And it is hereby made the duty of the State Controller to notify, in writing, the Attorney-General of the names and post office addresses of the several persons, companies, associations, or corporations liable for such tax, and who have not paid the same as required by this Act, and the amount due from each. And it is hereby made the duty of the Attorney-General, and he is hereby empowered to bring such suit or suits against such person, company, association, or corporation for the recovery of said taxes; in which suit writs of attachment, injunction or other process may be issued as in other cases for the recovery of personal property, and for the purposes of suits in this Act mentioned, the jurisdiction thereof shall be in the Superior Court of the County of Sacramento, State of California.

SEC. 5. Any person, company, association or corporation carrying on or operating in this State any railroad, the system of which or the whole thereof extends to and is carried on in another State or States, such person, company, association or corporation shall, within the time mentioned in section three hereof, make and file with the said Board of Equalization a statement of the gross income and revenue derived from such business during the calendar year mentioned in section three hereof, and also a detailed statement showing the necessary expenses actually incurred in carrying on the said business, also the total number of miles of such road so operated, and also the total number of miles operated in this State; and for the purpose of fixing the amount of tax which such person, company, association, or corporation shall pay under the provisions of this Act, the expenses mentioned in this section shall be deducted from said income or revenue, and tax on the balance then remaining shall be on such proportion thereof in the excess over the amount of exemption mentioned in section one hereof, as the number of miles of such road within this State shall bear to the whole number of miles of such road operated.

SEC. 6. Any person, company, association, or corporation liable for the tax in this Act provided for, failing to file with the Board of Equalization within the time specified in section three hereof the statement required to be filed by said section, shall be subject to a penalty of three hundred dollars, which penalty may be recovered in any suit brought by any taxpayer of this State in any court of competent jurisdiction in the county wherein such person resides, or where such company, association, or corporation has its principal place of business, which suit shall be brought in the name of the People of the State of California, and the moneys so recovered shall be paid over to the person bringing such suit, and the prevailing party shall recover costs and a reasonable sum for attorney fees, and it shall be competent in such suit for the court to require the defendant in such suit to produce any books, documents, and papers for the purposes of such suit, and to make due inquiry and determine the amount of tax which such person, company, association, or corporation is liable for, and shall forward to the State Board of Equalization a certified copy of such judgment, and said Board of Equalization shall, upon receipt thereof, enter upon the said books mentioned in section four hereof the amount of tax shown by said judgment for which such person, company, association, or corporation is liable, and shall then notify the Attorney-General of the amount so due, and the said Attorney-General shall then proceed to collect the same, as in section four hereof provided.

SEC. 7. The income tax provided for in this Act, when paid into the State Treasury, shall become a part of the General Fund.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

At the session of the Senate the following message from the Governor was taken up and read.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, STATE OF CALIFORNIA, }
SACRAMENTO, March 4, 1899.

To the Senate of the State of California:

I have the honor to inform your honorable body that I have approved Senate Bill No. 49—An Act to amend Sections 1094, 1095, 1096, 1097, 1101, 1103, 1104, 1105, 1113, 1115, 1116, 1130, 1204, 1261, and to repeal Sections 1098, 1099, 1100, 1114 of the Political Code.

HENRY T. GAGE,
Governor of the State of California.

Also:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, STATE OF CALIFORNIA, }
SACRAMENTO, March 4, 1899.

To the Senate of the State of California:

I herewith return to your honorable body, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 7—An Act for the relief of John Mullan, and to appropriate money therefor, with my objections thereto.

This bill appropriates the sum of $45,616 30 out of any money in the State Treasury not otherwise appropriated, for the relief of John Mullan, for alleged services incollecting from the United States the sum of $228,081 51, and authorizes the payment of the same, the Act itself to take effect January 1, 1900.

The greater amount of this claim arises out of the supposed services as an alleged authorized agent of this State, in the collection of money due this State by the United States, from what is known as the "Direct War Tax" claims, under the Act of Congress approved August 5, 1861.

By this Act of Congress a direct tax of \$20,000,000 was ordered to be annually laid upon the United States, and apportioned, respectively, to the several States. The amount apportioned to the State of California by said Act was \$254,538 66 $\frac{2}{3}$. For the purpose of collecting this tax, authority was given the President of the United States to divide the different States and Territories and the District of Columbia into convenient assessment districts, and assessors and collectors were directed to be appointed by the President, with the advice of the Senate, for the several districts. The said direct tax was assessed and laid on the value of all lands and lots of ground, with their improvements and dwelling houses, which several articles subject to taxation were enumerated and valued by the respective assessors at the rate each of them was worth in money on the first day of April, 1862. Property belonging to the United States and to the States, such as was exempted by the laws of the State wherein the property was situated, was exempted from the direct tax, and such property belonging to any individual actually residing thereon as was worth the sum of \$500.

By the fifty-third section of the Act, any State or Territory was entitled to collect and pay into the United States treasury its quota of the direct tax in its own way through its own officers, assessors and collectors, and upon so doing such State or Territory was entitled to a deduction of fifteen per centum on the quota of direct tax apportioned to such State or Territory, with the proviso that such deduction should only apply to such part of the direct tax as was actually paid into the United States treasury on or before the last day of June in the year to which such payment related, and a deduction of ten per cent to such part as should have been actually paid into the United States treasury on or before the last day of September in the year to which the payment related, the year being regarded as commencing April first.

Under this Act of Congress, California availed herself of the provisions, collected through her own officers and paid into the treasury of the United States the sum of $247,445 41, leaving a balance due the United States of $7,093 26.

By an Act of Congress approved June 27, 1882, the Secretary of the Treasury was authorized to examine and report to Congress the amount of all claims of certain States and Territories, including California, for money expended and indebtedness incurred in the suppression of Indian hostilities.

Thereafter, December 12, 1882, in reply to the application of Mr. John Mullan, Governor Perkins wrote to Mr. Mullan a letter, in substance directing him to act as State Agent, and leaving the matter of his compensation to the discretion of the Legislature.

On March 3, 1883, Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 20 was adopted, which is in the following language:

"WHEREAS, The Governor and State Surveyor-General of this State have heretofore, respectively, appointed Captain John Mullan, of San Francisco, California, agent and attorney to represent the interests of the State of California before the proper authorities of the United States, at Washington, D. C., in the matter of the claim of this State to the five per cent net proceeds of the sales of the public lands by the United States in this State; and also in the matter of the direct tax levied upon this State by the United States, under the Act of Congress of August 6, 1861; and also of her claim arising during the Modoc War in 1872, and also under the provisions of the Act of Congress of June 27, 1882; therefore, be it

"Resolved by the Assembly of California, the Senate concurring, That the appointments so conferred upon Captain John Mullan by the Governor and Surveyor-General, respectively, are hereby ratified and confirmed, and the Governor of this State be and he is hereby authorized and directed to fix the compensation for the services by Captain John Mullan heretofore and that may be by him hereafter rendered, at twenty per cent of each of the sums or claims that may be by him collected from the United States, and of pay to him such per cent out of the moneys that may be collected by him and paid to this State on account of each of the foregoing matters, respectively; provided, however, that this State shall not in any event become liable for any expenses, fees, and salaries of any nature whatever, other than such contingent commission.

"Sec. 2. That the Controller of the State of California be and he is hereby authorized to deliver to Captain John Mullan, or to his authorized agent, all the original vouchers, certificates, and papers of every kind and nature against the Government of the United States, for or on account of each of the foregoing matters, respectively.

"Sec. 3. That said Controller shall prepare and take from Captain John Mullan, or from his authorized agent, a receipt in writing, bound in a book, same as he keeps in his office for all such papers as aforesaid, and which shall show what the papers are in each case, the date thereof, by what Board of Examiners passed, the amount and date of the warrant, and in whose favor drawn."

By this concurrent resolution Mr. Mullan was authorized (if the resolution had been legal, which it was not) to receive twenty per cent out of all moneys "collected by him and paid to the State."

Subsequently, by an Act of Congress approved July 7, 1884 (23 U. S. Stats. at Large p. 239), $42,151 17 was appropriated to enable the Secretary of the Treasury to pay to the States of California, Oregon, and Nevada, respectively, fifteen per cent of the amount of their quota of the direct tax of 1861, on account of the proper costs for assuming the collection of the same. It was adjudged by the United States Treasury Department that the amount due to the State of California from the United States for the fifteen per cent rebate was the sum of $38,180 89, and to this was added the sum of $495 72 on account of the State's expenditures in the suppression of the Modoc hostilities—making a total due the State of $38,676 52. From this amount found due, there was deducted on September 13, 1884, the sum of $7,093 26, the balance of California's quota of the direct war tax remaining unpaid, and a Treasury warrant for the net sum of $31,583 26 was handed by the United States Treasury officers to Mr. Mullan as the agent of this State.

On the 29th day of September, 1884, Mr. Mullan handed said warrant to Governor Stoneman, who, without any legal authority, paid Mr. Mullan the sum of $7,735 30, an estimated commission upon the sum of $38,676 52, and not upon the sum of $31,583 26, the amount actually collected from the United States, and paid to the State. This gave Mr. Mullan an excess in commissions over that specified in the legislative concurrent resolution of 1883 of $1,418 95.

The following is the receipt given by Mr. Mullan to Governor Stoneman:

"SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29, 1884.

"Received of George Stoneman, Governor of the State of California, the sum of seven thousand seven hundred and thirty-five and 30-100 ($7,735 30) dollars, being the twenty per cent due me on the sum of thirty-eight thousand six hundred and seventy-six and 52-100 ($38,676 52) dollars collected by me for the State of California from the United States. Said sum of $7,735 30 being paid me by the Governor of the State under a resolution of the Legislature of the State of California, adopted March 3, 1883.

"JOHN MULLAN, State Agent for California."

Thereafter, under the alleged authority implied by the concurrent resolution of 1883, the appointment by Governor Perkins, and the subsequent ratification by Governor Stoneman, Mr. Mullan continued to act as the agent of this State at Washington. On February 10, 1888, Governor Waterman addressed and mailed to Mr. Mullan the following letter, revoking all of Mr. Mullan's appointments and powers, a copy of which will be found in his message to the Legislature January 7, 1889, and is as follows:

"EXECUTIVE OFFICE, SACRAMENTO, February 10, 1888.

"CAPTAIN JOHN MULLAN, Washington, D. C.:

"Referring to my telegrams of the 3d and 6th, respectively, and after due and careful consideration of the matters therein referred to, I am convinced that certain appointments as agent and attorney to represent the State in Washington, made to you by the Governor and State Surveyor-General, and which you endeavored to have ratified and confirmed, with a commission of twenty per cent fixed as your fee, by concurrent resolutions of March 3, 1883, and March 3, 1885, should be and are hereby most emphatically revoked.

"This revocation applies specially to the appointment by Surveyor-General Minis, November 1, 1878, in the matter of the five per cent claim, aggregating nearly $1,000,000.

"To the appointment of Governor George C. Perkins, December 12, 1882, in the matter of 'Direct Tax' of August 5, 1861, aggregating over $200,000; also that of March 7, 1882, in the matter of the 'Modoc War Claims'; also that of July 12, 1882, being 'Claim for money expended and indebtedness assumed in repelling invasions and Indian hostilities.

ties,' together with interest on the same; also claims under the provisions of the Act of Congress of June 27, 1882, known as the 'Rebellion Claims,' aggregating $2,968,623.

"To the appointment of Governor George Stoneman, March 31, 1884, in the matter of 'Claims of the State of California growing out of Indian hostilities,' and in the matter of all moneys that have been paid in or may be due by the State of California on account of Indian War claims, or Indian War bonds, or coupons issued by the State for the purpose of recovering from the United States the payment of the whole of these, together with the interest due on the same, aggregating several hundred thousand dollars.

"To the appointment of Surveyor-General Willey, October 24, 1883, and December 1, 1885, in the matter of 'refunding certain fees' and 'indemnity for certain swamp lands' therein mentioned.

"The appointments above enumerated, when taken in connection with the appointments named and attempts to be confirmed in the concurrent resolutions of March 3, 1883, and March 3, 1885, are vague, indefinite, and uncertain, and that there may be no mistake, I hereby revoke all appointments held by you from the Governor or State Surveyor-General, of whatever kind or nature, or named in said concurrent resolutions.

"R. W. WATERMAN, Governor."

Governor Waterman, in the said message, after giving a résumé of the appointment and services of Mr. Mullan, adds: "My action in revoking these appointments has been governed by a determination to save to the State the large sum of money attempted to be given to Captain John Mullan for alleged services, which are without a pretense of necessity, for the reason that the matter of these claims is one purely of legislation and for the favorable action of our Senators and Members of Congress."

Notwithstanding this specific notice of the withdrawal by the Governor of Mr. Mullan's supposed authority to act for the State, Mr. Mullan chose to disregard this notice, and continued to act.

On March 2, 1891, an Act of Congress, originally introduced by Senator Morrill, was approved, which Act is entitled "An Act to credit and pay to the several States and Territories and the District of Columbia all moneys collected under the direct tax levied by the Act of Congress approved August 5, 1861." As many of the Senators and Representatives had been unfavorably impressed by the activity of various claim agents representing several of the States, and doubts were raised as to the regularity of their several appointments, two provisions were inserted in the Act as conditions for the repayment of the sums paid by the several States, Territories, and District of Columbia under the direct tax of 1861. These provisions are as follows:

"But no money shall be paid to any State or Territory until the Legislature thereof shall have accepted by resolution the sum herein appropriated, and the trusts imposed, in full satisfaction of all claims against the United States on account of the levy and collection of said tax, and shall have authorized the Governor to receive said money for the use and purposes aforesaid. * * * And further provided, That no part of the money hereby appropriated shall be paid out by the Governor of any State or Territory, or any other person, to any attorney or agent under any contract for services now existing or heretofore made between the representative of any State or Territory and any attorney or agent."

Pursuant to the requirements of said Act of Congress of March 2, 1891, the Legislature of this State on March 25, 1891, adopted Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 9, accepting the conditions imposed by the said Act of Congress. Said resolution is as follows:

"Resolved by the Senate, the Assembly concurring, That the State of California does hereby accept the sum appropriated and the trust imposed by an Act of Congress entitled 'An Act to credit and pay to the several States and Territories and the District of Columbia all moneys collected under the direct tax levied by the Act of Congress, approved August 5, A. D. 1861,' in full satisfaction of claims against the United States on account of the levy and collection of said tax, and does hereby authorize the Governor to receive the said money for the use and purposes aforesaid, and receipt therefor; and said money, when so received, shall be by the Governor paid into the State Treasury, and shall be credited to the General Fund.

"Resolved, That His Excellency the Governor be requested to furnish to the honorable the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States a copy of these resolutions, duly certified and attested by the Secretary of State under the Great Seal of the State of California."

Thereafter, the Acting Controller of the Treasury Department at Washington directed to Governor Markham a letter of date April 22, 1891, which is as follows:

"SIR: I have the honor to state that the account of the State of California for the refund of the direct war tax paid to the United States under Act of August 5, 1861, has been adjusted as follows:

Amount of direct war tax paid.....	$247,941 13
Amount refunded to the Governor of the State under Act of July 7, 1884	31,583 26
Leaving due to the State	$216,357 87
Amount suspended	8,110 98
Balance	$208,246 89

"The amount suspended, viz.: $8,110 98, is a charge standing on the books of the War Department against the State of California for arms overdrawn by the State under Section 1661, U. S. Rev. Statutes, prior to February 12, 1867.

"The said amount is withheld under the opinion of the Second Controller, pending the determination of the question as to the liability of the State for the value of the arms overdrawn. A draft for $208,246 89 will be remitted to you by the U. S. Treasurer. Please acknowledge the receipt of the draft to this office.

"Very respectfully,

"I. R. GARRISON, Acting Controller."

Thereafter, on May 6, 1891, Governor Markham received direct from the U. S. Treasury Department a draft for the said sum of $208,246 89, and the same was deposited with the State Controller on May 7, 1891.

Thereafter, on April 4, 1893, Governor Markham received direct from the U. S. Treasury Department a draft for the sum of $8,110 98, being the balance previously withheld, and said draft was on April 4, 1893, deposited with the Controller.

Inasmuch as Mr. Mullan now claims the credit and benefit of these collections under the concurrent resolution of 1883, the appointment of Governor Perkins and the ratification of Governor Stoneman, it becomes important to ascertain whether Mr. Mullan was ever legally appointed as such agent.

This question has been finally determined and adjudicated by the Supreme Court of this State in a suit by the claimant here against the State, upon the same commissions for collecting moneys due the State on the direct war tax claims. The case is entitled John Mullan vs. The State of California, and is reported in Volume 114 of the California Reports, on page 578, et seq. The Court there held that the action of the Governor and of the Legislature did not constitute the enactment of a "law" within the purview of the Constitution, and that these proceedings did not form a competent basis for a contract with the State. It was further held that a mere resolution of the Legislature could not supply the place of a law within the meaning of the Constitution; that the State was not bound by such actions on the part of the Governor and Legislature, that there was no estoppel against the State; and that a person "dealing with public officers is charged with the knowledge of and is bound at his peril to ascertain the extent of their powers to bind the State for which they seem to act, and if they exceed their authority the State is not bound thereby to any extent."

This decision upon the merits of Mr. Mullan's claims adjudges that his alleged contract to act for the State is wholly void.

In the face, therefore, of this decision of our highest tribunal upon the very foundation of Mr. Mullan's claims now presented, and further considering the conditions expressed in the Act of Congress of March 2, 1891, prohibiting the Governor of the State from paying any part of the money so received from the United States to any agent under any contract made between such agent and the representative of the State, I find that my duty compels me to manifest my disapproval of the bill which has received the sanction of your honorable body.

HENRY T. GAGE,
Governor of the State of California.

The above communication from the Governor was referred to the Committee on Executive Communications and Nominations.

The Legislature of the State of California, at its regular session commencing on the second day of January, eighteen hundred and ninety-seven, two thirds of all the members elected to each of the houses of said Legislature voting in favor thereof, hereby proposes that sections one, two, three, four, ten, twelve, fourteen, sixteen, seventeen, eighteen, twenty-one, and twenty-three of article six of the Constitution of said State be amended so as to read as follows:

ARTICLE VI.

Judicial Department.

SECTION 1. The judicial power of the State shall be vested in the Senate, sitting as a Court of Impeachment, in a Supreme Court, District Courts of Appeal, Superior Courts, Justices of the Peace, and such inferior courts as the Legislature may establish in any incorporated city or town, or city and county.

SEC. 2. The Supreme Court shall consist of a Chief Justice and four Associate Justices; provided, that the Chief Justice and the Associate Justices in office at the time of the adoption of the amendment shall continue in office and constitute the court until the expiration of their respective terms of office; and provided further, that at the expiration of the term of office of the two Justices having at the time of the adoption of this amendment the shortest terms to serve, their office shall be abolished.

The Supreme Court shall hold all of its sessions at San Francisco. There shall be three regular sessions each year, beginning on the second Monday in January, May, and September. Special sessions may be held at any time, on the order of the Chief Justice, or of three Associate Justices.

The decisions of the Court shall be given in writing, and the grounds of the decision shall be stated.

The Chief Justice and the Justices of the Supreme Court shall be elected by the qualified electors of the State at large, at the general State elections, at the times and places at which State officers are elected, and the term of office shall be twelve years from and after the first Monday after the first day of January next succeeding their election.

If a vacancy occur in the office of a Justice, the Governor shall appoint a person to hold the office until the election and qualification of a Justice to fill the vacancy, which election shall take place at the next succeeding general election at which State officers are elected, and the Justice so elected shall hold the office for the remainder of the unexpired term.

The Supreme Court shall have appellate jurisdiction direct from the Superior Courts in every case, proceeding or special proceeding where is necessarily drawn in question the validity of a statute, or of an authority exercised under the United States; or where is necessarily drawn in question the validity of the Constitution or any statute of or authority exercised under this State on the ground of being repugnant to the Constitution of this State; or where is necessarily drawn in question any title, right, privilege, power, authority or immunity claimed to exist under the Constitution of this State or the Constitution or laws of the United States; or where is necessarily drawn in question the legality of any tax, impost or assessment; in all proceedings in exercise of the right of eminent domain; in actions or proceedings for usurpation or intrusion into, or unlawful holding of, a public franchise; also, in all criminal cases (on questions of law alone) in which the judgment shall be death or imprisonment for life, and also in all cases in which the fact of the adoption by a city, or a city and county, of a charter for its own government, or the validity of the same, or any part thereof, or of any authority exercised thereunder, is drawn in question. It shall also have appellate jurisdiction in every case, proceeding or special proceeding determined by any District Court of Appeal the record in which may, by order pursuant to the further provisions on these subjects hereinafter contained in this article, be directed to be transmitted to it. It shall also have jurisdiction in every case, proceeding and special proceeding which shall actually have been submitted to it for decision before the organization of the District Courts of Appeal established by this article, and of every pending case which shall not be transferable to the District Courts of Appeal as hereinafter provided, and of all cases on appeal to it when the District Courts of Appeal provided for herein shall be organized, and which cases it shall not transfer to said District Courts of Appeal as hereinafter provided for. And in all cases in which the Supreme Court shall acquire jurisdiction, it shall have further jurisdiction to decide all questions properly presented on the record, whether or not they be such as of themselves would entitle the Court to take jurisdiction of the case.

The Supreme Court shall also have such other appellate and original jurisdiction as is herein given it.

Sec. 3. The State is hereby divided into three appellate districts, in each of which there shall be a District Court of Appeal, consisting of three Justices. There shall be four regular sessions each year, commencing on the second Monday in February, May, August, and November, of each District Court of Appeal. Special sessions may be held at any time, upon the order of the Court.

The First Appellate Court shall embrace the following counties:

The Second Appellate District shall embrace all the following named counties in the State:

The official designation of the District Court of Appeal for this district shall be "The Court of Appeal of the State of California, in and for the Second District," and the court shall hold its sessions at the City of Los Angeles.

The Third Appellate District shall embrace the following named counties: -----

The official designation of the District Court of Appeal of this district shall be "The Court of Appeal of the State of California, in and for the Third District," and the court shall hold its sessions at the City of Sacramento.

The Legislature may remove one or more counties from one appellate district to another, but no county not contiguous to another county of a district shall be added to such district.

The Justices of the District Courts of Appeal shall be elected by the qualified electors within their respective districts, at the general State elections, at the times and places at which State officers are elected, and the term of office shall be twelve years from and after the first Monday after the first day of January next succeeding the election; provided, that on or before the first day of January, after this amendment takes effect, the Governor shall appoint three Justices for each District Court of Appeal, to hold office until qualification of Justices to be elected at the next succeeding general election. The Justices of each District Court of Appeals so elected at the first election shall, at their first meeting, so classify themselves by lot that one of them shall go out of office at the end of four years, another at the end of eight years, and the third to hold office for the full term of twelve years; and an entry of such classification shall be made in the minutes of the court, signed by them, and a duplicate thereof shall be filed in the office of the Secretary of State.

If a vacancy occur in the office of a Justice of the District Court of Appeal, the Governor shall appoint a person to hold the office until the election and qualification of a Justice to fill the vacancy, which election shall take place at the next succeeding general election at which State officers are elected, and the Justice so elected shall hold the office for the remainder of the unexpired term.

The Justices of each of the District Courts of Appeal shall elect one of their number as a Presiding Justice; the presence of two Justices shall be necessary for the transaction of any business by such court, and the concurrence of two Justices shall be necessary to pronounce a judgment.

The District Courts of Appeal shall have appellate jurisdiction in their respective districts in all cases of appeal provided by law from the Superior Courts, except those in which the appeal is to be taken direct to the Supreme Court, as hereinbefore provided.

The judgments and decrees of the District Courts of Appeal shall be final in all cases embraced within their appellate jurisdiction, except in the following cases:

First.—In any case decided by a District Court of Appeal, if the decision of such Court of Appeal conflicts with a previous decision of the Supreme Court, or of another District Court of Appeal, the Supreme Court shall, upon petition to be filed within thirty days after entry of judgment in the District Court of Appeal, order the case to be heard by the Supreme Court, and thereupon the record in the case shall be transmitted to the Supreme Court, which shall hear and determine the same.

Second.—In any case pending before or decided by a District Court of Appeal, it shall be competent for the Supreme Court, in its discretion, to require by certiorari or otherwise any such case to be certified to the Supreme Court for its review and determination, with the same power and authority in the case as if it had been carried by appeal or writ of error to the Supreme Court.

The Supreme Court throughout the State, and the District Courts of Appeal within their respective districts, shall have the power to issue writs of mandamus, certiorari, prohibition, habeas corpus, and all other writs necessary or proper to the complete exercise of appellate jurisdiction. Upon petition by, or on behalf of, any person held in actual custody, each of the Justices of the Supreme Court shall have power to issue writs of habeas corpus to any part of the State, and each of the Justices of the District Courts of Appeal shall have power to issue writs of habeas corpus to any part of the appellate district within which he sits; and any such writ may be made returnable before the Justice who issues it, or the court of which he is a member, or any Justice thereof, or before any lower court of record, or any Justice or Judge thereof.

Sec. 4. The Supreme Court may, upon the organization of the District Courts of Appeal, transfer to them, respectively, any cases then pending in the Supreme Court and which have not been heard, as are within the class of cases over which such District Courts have appellate jurisdiction; and upon such transfer the District Courts of Appeal shall have full jurisdiction to hear and determine such cases so transferred. Unless oral argument be waived by the parties with the consent of the Court, every cause and matter in the Supreme Court, and in any District Court of Appeal (except such applications as may be made ex parte), shall be orally argued by the parties or their counsel in open court; but this shall not prevent the courts from requiring that the points to be argued and considered, together with a list of authorities to sustain such points, shall be printed and filed before a cause is taken up for argument. After twenty causes or matters shall have been submitted for decision, no other cause or matter (except ex parte applications) shall be taken up or heard until each and every one of said twenty causes and matters shall have been disposed of. In the determination of causes, all decisions of the Supreme Court and of the District Courts of Appeal shall be given in writing and the grounds of the decision shall be stated. A remittitur or mandate must issue on every judgment of either of said courts on or before the expiration of thirty days after the rendition thereof.

Sec. 10. Justices of the Supreme Court, of the District Courts of Appeal, and Judges of the Superior Courts may be removed by concurrent resolution of both houses of the Legislature, adopted by a two-thirds vote of each house. All other judicial officers, except Justices of the Peace, may be removed by the Senate, on the recommendation of the Governor, but no removal shall be made by virtue of this section unless the cause thereof be entered on the Journal, nor unless the party complained of has been served with a copy of the complaint against him, and shall have had an opportunity of being heard in his defense. On the question of removal the ayes and noes shall be entered on the Journal.

Sec. 12. The Supreme Court, the District Courts of Appeal, the Superior Courts, and such other courts as the Legislature shall prescribe, shall be courts of record.

Sec. 14. The County Clerks shall be ex officio clerks of the courts of record in and for their respective counties, or cities and counties. The Legislature may also provide for the appointment, by the several Superior Courts, of one or more commissioners in their respective counties, or cities and counties, with authority to perform chamber business of the Judges of the Superior Courts, to take depositions, and perform such other business connected with the administration of justice as may be prescribed by law.

Sec. 16. The Legislature shall provide for the speedy and uniform publication of such opinions of the Supreme Court and of the District Courts of Appeal as may be ordered by said courts, respectively, and all such opinions shall be free for publication by any person.

Sec. 17. The Justices of the Supreme Court, of the District Courts of Appeal, and the Judges of the Superior Courts shall severally, at stated times during their continuance in office, receive for their services a compensation which shall not be increased or diminished after their election nor during the term for which they shall have been elected. The salaries of the Justices of the Supreme Court and of the District Courts of Appeal shall be paid by the State. One half of the salary of each Superior Court Judge shall be paid by the State, and the other half thereof shall be paid by the county for which he is elected. Unless otherwise changed by the Legislature, the annual salaries of the Justices of the Supreme Court and of the District Courts of Appeal shall be six thousand dollars each. Unless otherwise changed by the Legislature, the Judges of the Superior Court shall receive an annual salary as now provided by law.

Sec. 18. The Justices of the Supreme Court, of the District Courts of Appeal, and the Judges of the Superior Courts shall be ineligible to any other office or public employment than a judicial office or employment during the term for which they shall have been elected.

SEC. 21. The Supreme Court shall appoint a clerk of that court, but the present clerk of the court shall hold office until the expiration of his term of office, a phonographic reporter, and a bailiff, who shall severally hold his office and be removable at the pleasure of the court. Each District Court of Appeal shall appoint a clerk, phonographic reporter, and bailiff, who shall severally hold his office and be removable at the pleasure of the court by which he is appointed. The Supreme Court shall appoint a reporter of decisions, who shall appoint an assistant reporter for each of the District Courts of Appeal. All of said officers shall hold office and be removable at the pleasure of the Supreme Court. The decisions of the District Courts of Appeal shall be published in the same volumes with the opinions of the Supreme Court, under the same general title of California Reports; and all statutes in relation to the publication of the opinions of the Supreme Court shall be deemed to apply to the publication of the decisions of the District Courts of Appeal.

SEC. 23. No one shall be eligible to the office of a Justice of the Supreme Court, or of a District Court of Appeal, or of a Judge of a Superior Court, unless he shall have been admitted to practice before the Supreme Court of the State.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, STATE OF CALIFORNIA, }
SACRAMENTO, March 6, 1899. }

To the Senate of the State of California:

I have the honor to inform your honorable body that I have approved Senate Bill No. 362—An Act to establish a camp of instruction for the National Guard of the State of California, and to authorize the acquisition by donation of a site for the same.

HENRY T. GAGE,
Governor of the State of California.

Also:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, STATE OF CALIFORNIA, }
SACRAMENTO, March 6, 1899. }

To the Senate of the State of California:

I herewith return to your honorable body, without my approval, together with my objections thereto, Senate Bill No. 59—An Act to provide for the inspection of dairies, factories of dairy products, and of dairy products as to their sanitary condition, and as to the health of stock, and to prevent the sale of milk and the products of milk drawn from diseased animals to the people of this State, and to prevent the spread of infectious and contagious diseases common to stock, and to appropriate money therefor.

This Act makes the violation of any of its provisions a crime, which is punishable by fine or imprisonment, and "such imprisonment to be at the discretion of the court," etc.

Section 1, among other things, makes it unlawful to manufacture any article of food from cows "affected with Texas fever," and also prohibits the vending of milk from such animals, etc.

Were this bill to become operative, Section 1 thereof would needlessly preclude the milking of many large herds of dairy cows within this State. There are several sections of this State, containing hundreds of square miles of territory in extent, where nearly all the milch cows are infected with "Texas fever," and which fact is unknown to the owners of such animals. And the proprietors of these cattle are themselves to-day urging the passage of this law—which would mean their own financial ruin.

I am constrained to remark that there are very many dairymen who do not understand what is meant by the term "Texas fever."

Many of the herds of cattle within this State infected with this disease, and capable of transmitting it under favorable circumstances to other susceptible cattle, are themselves immune to it, and consequently show no symptoms of the disease whatever.

The micro-organism which causes the disease lives in a dormant or inactive state in the red blood corpuscles of the infectious southern animal, and is transmitted to the susceptible animal by means of a southern tick.

I find the following view expressed in that valuable book, Bulletin No. 37 of the Agricultural Experiment Station, and the Missouri State Board of Agriculture, in cooperation with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, page 83:

"The transmission of this micro-organism from southern cattle to native northern cattle in natural outbreaks is effected by a southern cattle tick, and by this means only."

This micro-organism, on entering the system of the susceptible animal, becomes active, and produces the disease known as Texas or splenic fever, by destroying the red corpuscles of the affected animal.

While the infected southern animal is capable, under favorable circumstances, of transmitting this disease, and is itself infected with the micro-organism, it has been fully demonstrated by the United States Department of Agriculture, and by the Health Commissioners of numerous States, that the product from, and the flesh of, such animals are perfectly wholesome food.

I find in Special Report on Diseases of Cattle and Cattle Feeding, 1892, in House Miscellaneous Documents, second session, fifty-third Congress, 1892-93 Vol. 16, at pages 428-29, that this disease known as "Texas fever" is one from which immunity is acquired, and therefore calves which recover from it are not again attacked as a rule, even after they become adult, and that "these cattle infect others through the medium of ticks, while they themselves are in perfect health."

Such has long been my impression, derived from research and from a considerable experience with livestock of my own; and upon conversing with Doctor Blummer, of the Department of Agriculture for the United States, I am assured that these views are correct.

Further, this bill would make it an offense for any person or corporation to have in his or its possession for sale any article of food derived from cows affected with pleuropneumonia. I am informed by the United States Government officials that contagious pleuropneumonia does not exist within the United States. Therefore if this language "pleuropneumonia" should be incorporated into a California statute, as by this Act intended, the idea would be sent abroad thereby that California cattle were infected with this dreaded disease; and you will readily see that such a law would prejudice the shipment of our cattle abroad, and do vast financial harm to the cattle interests of this State.

Further, this bill would make it unlawful to manufacture food from milk produced from cows affected with "parasites." There are certain seasons of the year when it is well known that cattle lice and parasites get upon entire bands of perfectly healthy cattle.

I am confident that the Legislature did not intend (though the words used in this statute would have that effect) to pass a law so broad as to make it a crime to sell the product of cows thus circumstanced.

By Section 3 of this Act the State Dairy Bureau is given the power to appoint as many agents as in its judgment, not to exceed twenty, may be required to carry out the provisions of this Act, at $4 a day, exclusive of their actual necessary expenses, or at an expense of $80 a day. And this enormous expenditure could be permitted every day until the entire $14,000 would be consumed. Does it not seem that this expenditure would be altogether excessive?

Again, it vests in the board the right to appoint five veterinary surgeons at the compensation of $8 a day, exclusive of their expenses allowed them. It seems to me that this large outlay is inadvisable, when we reflect upon the fact that each county also makes some provision for such matters.

There is another objection which I only refer to in case the bill should be remodeled, and that is that it would seem the Act ought not to place dairymen selected by the board composed of dairymen, in such absolute control of the execution of the powers and duties prescribed in the Act, many of which duties it would appear to me should be under the scientific supervision of medical men.

And is it not questionable, to say the least, whether this Act does not violate that principle of justice always recognized in the United States, namely: That no man should act as a judge in his own case?

Now, if we place this bill upon our statute books, will it not mean that dairymen are to sit as judges upon all matters practically affecting their own business, and that the consumption of diseased milk by the people is not to be attacked without the consent of the dairymen themselves, and in a manner and to an extent entirely agreeable to themselves?

There does not seem, under this law, to be any special qualifications required of the agents to be appointed by the Dairy Bureau. It would seem that these agents should be scientific experts; otherwise their work may not accomplish the objects apparently intended by the bill.

I fear the bill is so objectionable that it will injure the very business it was intended to benefit; but this subject is of so great importance to the dairy interests of the State in general that a bill on the lines intended to be covered should be framed in accordance with the judgment of men who have both scientific and practical experience in such matters, and when thus prepared, should receive immediate attention at your hands.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The following messages from the Governor were taken up and read:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, STATE OF CALIFORNIA, }
SACRAMENTO, March 7, 1899. }

To the Senate of the State of California:

I have the honor to inform your honorable body that I have approved Senate Bill No. 723—An Act making an appropriation for the contingent expenses of the Senate for the thirty-third session of the Legislature.

HENRY T. GAGE,
Governor of the State of California.

Also:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, STATE OF CALIFORNIA, }
SACRAMENTO, March 7, 1899. }

To the Senate of the State of California:

I herewith return to your honorable body, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 10, with my objections thereto.

By the amendment proposed in this Act to Section 4 of the present law, full power is given to the Board of Trustees of the district, consisting of three members, to acquire by donation or purchase "any real property, whether situated within or without the district where required for levee sites, or for the protection works maintained or to be maintained by the district." They are also given authority "to erect and maintain" all works of protection "within the district, or in whole or in part without the district, where in their judgment required for the protection of the lands within the district."

This grant of so much power to the Board of Trustees, without any check or limit upon their discretion, is dangerous to the landowners of the districts.

Another ill-directed change proposed by the present bill is the removal from the existing law of the very proper restriction upon the powers of the Board of Trustees, which, as the law now stands, requires the Board of Trustees to submit to the Board of Supervisors all plans and specifications and estimates of the cost of construction of necessary work for the approval, modification, or rejection of the Supervisors.

Were the amendment proposed by this bill to become the law, then the District Board of Trustees would have authority to charge the landowners of the district for the construction of works to the extent of their sole discretion, and without any specified limit as to cost. To vest such authority in an interested body, without any right of appeal or other safeguard, is against the principles of municipal and district government.

Again, by the proposed amendment to Section 6 of the Act, respecting the fixing of the basis of assessments and the filing of the report by the Commissioners of Assessment, it is provided in this bill "that no such report heretofore made, or that shall hereafter be made in any district heretofore or hereafter organized under this Act, shall be deemed or adjudged in any wise or in any part invalid by reason either of the amounts of land included in any one tract for the purpose of the levy by said commissioners, or because of any error or imperfection in the description thereof, and such equalization, where heretofore made, in any district, or where hereafter made, shall be conclusive of the regularity of all the proceedings leading up to the same, and shall conclusively establish that such report so equalized complies in all respects with the provisions of this Act."

This most dangerous innovation, attempting to legalize all void assessments, and making the determination of the Board of Trustees conclusive of the regularity of all the proceedings in the matter of assessment, is not consonant with the principles of good government.

No such law should ever be permitted to mar our statute books whose policy would close the doors of our courts to the petitions of aggrieved landowners.

This proposed injurious amendment finds its echo in Section 5 of this bill, where it is sought to amend Section 7 of the existing law by adding the following:

"Where an assessment heretofore or hereafter made is or shall be irregular or invalid, or is or shall be paid by a part only of the lands or landowners liable therefor, it shall be competent for the Board of Trustees to levy a new assessment in the amount of the former assessment, or exceeding the same, and to direct that all payments, if any there be, on such former assessment, shall be credited as payments to that extent upon such new assessment; and, thereupon, where such payments have been made, they shall be credited by the Treasurer and Tax Collector as payments upon such new assessment, and such new assessment shall be collected and shall be a lien only for the balance unpaid; but such new assessment shall be collected and shall be a lien for the full amount thereof against and upon all lands upon which such former assessment has not been paid in whole or in part."

By this addition it is proposed to vest in the Board of Trustees the extraordinary power to tax the landowners in all districts for all previous irregular and invalid assessments. The mere statement of such a proposition should carry its own refutation. There is neither a legal nor equitable basis for such legislation. To thus arm the Board of Trustees with such power would be to leave open to confiscation the lands of the poor men of small holdings in the districts, as well as violating the rights of the large owners.

Section 9 of the Act, as amended by this bill, omits the words of the present law which give the right to the landowners of paying the assessment on or before the first Monday of January next ensuing, and providing for the collection of assessments in the manner provided for the collection of State and county taxes.

These omissions so change the existing law that instead of providing for one annual assessment, as heretofore, there might be as many assessments in each year as the Board of Trustees should determine, limited only by the requirement of giving at least thirty days' notice of the day of delinquency.

I cannot assume that such extensive powers, so menacing to the rights of the landowners, will be exercised without abuse, and I am, therefore, for the foregoing, as well as other reasons, firmly opposed to the present bill.

HENRY T. GAGE,
Governor of the State of California.

The last above communication was referred to the Committee on Executive Communications and Nominations.

Senator Cutter moved to take up and consider messages from the Assembly.

"MR. SPEAKER: Your Committee on Rules and Regulations have the honor to report that they have held a joint conference with the Senate Committee on Rules and Revision with respect to the action of the Assembly on Assembly Bill No. 118.

"It was contended by the Committee on Rules and Revision of the Senate that the action of the Assembly in postponing indefinitely the report of the Conference Committee on Assembly Bill No. 118 (the conference having been ordered by each house) was unparliamentary, and tended to deprive the Senate of its parliamentary right to recede from the amendments introduced in that body, and thereby to defeat the bill.

"Your committee, therefore, recommend that the action of the House in postponing indefinitely the report of the Conference Committee on Assembly Bill No. 118 be reconsidered; that the Assembly conferees on said bill be discharged from further consideration of the bill; that the Senate be informed that a free conference is desired, and that free conferees be appointed by the Speaker.
